Signs of spring?

Two weeks of above-normal temperatures have made much of the December snowfall only a memory throughout Lake County. Warm 50 degree temperatures have been welcomed by many, but are playing havoc with winter sports enthusiasts. Scenes of melting snow are becoming commonplace in the county's hundreds of lakes and streams. - Photo by Larry Backe.

Three members of the Northwest Speedskating Club, based in Lindenhurst, Jennifer Passarella, Christopher Passarella and Brad Rubash have qualified for and will compete in the U.S. National Speedskating Championships to be held in Butte, Montana the weekend of Jan. 28 to 29.

Jennifer is an eighth grader at Lake Villa Intermediate. She will be competing at the juvenile level (12 to 13 year-olds) against girls from all over the United States who have also qualified from their own states.

Chris Passarella, cousin of Jennifer, attends St. Peter's School in Antioch. Chris will be competing at the midget boys level (10 to 11 year olds).

Rubash is in the sixth grade at W.C. Petty School and will compete in the same class as Chris.

Stephanie Passarella, sister of Jennifer, also qualified, but will not be making the trip. Stephanie attends Pleviak School where she is in the fifth grade. Stephanie is at the midget girl level (10 to 11 year olds).

The three Passarella's are no more strangers to the sport of Speedskating than their fathers who were both national champions. Chris' father, Michael Passarella

D.V.M., was a member of the 1969 Olympic Team that competed in Grenoble, France. Anyone interested in joining Speedskating, contact Ray Passarella, coach of the Northwest Speed Skating Club of Lindenhurst at (312) 356-1939.

BEST FOOT FORWARD FROM THE OFFICE OF DR. PAUL ABLER

PREGNANCY AND THE FEET

Foot problems commonly arise during pregnancy. The weight gain and other changes put extra stress on the feet. This can result in swollen feet and ankles, leg pains and tender areas. Some women experience leg cramps or morning stiffness, or develop varicose veins.

Selection of proper footwear is essential for foot comfort during pregnancy. Choose shoes of suede, kid leather or other soft, stretchable materials, with rigid, supportive backs. Shoes that lace are preferable because they can be adjusted for swelling. Alternate shoes of different heel heights, up to two inches, to avoid postural problems.

Some women benefit from orthotic inserts in shoes that improve foot performance while walking or standing. Your podiatrist can determine if an orthotic or other treatment is in order for relief of foot discomfort during pregnancy.

Libraries get state grants

Sec. of State and State Librarian Jim Edgar has announced that 20 public libraries in Lake County have been granted a total of $478,732 in funds based on the population of the area they serve.

According to Edgar, 546 libraries statewide will receive more than $9.5 million in per capita grants from his office. Moreover, $497,488.45 in additional grants were awarded to 100 public libraries unable to meet minimum public library funding at the local community level.

"Per capita grants to public libraries in Illinois are an increasingly important source of revenue to complement a local community's support for its public library," Edgar said. "These grants supplement the local public library's budget and allow libraries to provide more books and offer expanded programs. The use of state funds for this grant program recognizes the importance of libraries in the information they provide to citizens of Illinois for education and business."

Edgar said that the public libraries serve not only as information sources but often as community meeting places for literacy, cultural and educational activities.

"As State Librarian, I am pleased that we have again increased the level of funding to help hundreds of local public libraries continue providing basic services to millions of patrons in Illinois."

According to state law, libraries must work to meet the Illinois Library Assn.'s standards for public libraries and levy local taxes for library support at a rate of at 13 cents per $100 of assessed valuation.

Smarter voters will mean better politics

by JOSEPH SOULAK

Residents of Lake County are getting smarter every day! They know the size of their tax bill before it arrives in the spring mail. Almost to the dollar, they have calculated how much goes to the schools, village, county and other taxing bodies. They also know the amount of their monthly sewer, water and garbage bill.

If they don't like these costs of living in Lake County they speak out. It might be at a public meeting where 200 or 300 of their neighbors do the same. Or they might call an official on the telephone to vent their feelings.

And at election time they show their accumulated feelings by going to the polls, says Lake County Board Chairman Norman Geary. "That is the time of truth for all of us in public office," he said. "If the electorate isn't pleased or pacified the rest of the year they'll let it be known on election day."

All of this is going to happen with increased regularity, Geary predicts. "That is because the people living here are better educated and more aware of the issues. They will take the time, even make time, to speak out and, yes, vote."

Newer residents will be more affluent and, at the same time, better educated. This is because the upscale lifestyle will attract them. Their voice and vote will be added to those people already here, Geary said.

"Elected officials must sit up and take notice of this," the County Board chairman said. "The days of the smoke-filled rooms and political deals are over. Instead of special interests, it better be the public interest or people like myself will find themselves out of a job."

Geary uses himself as a good example of this type of Democracy. As an Avon Twp. supervisor for 26 years, he has been a County Board member for a few years less than that because he was turned out of office for two years. A decade ago he was elected County Board chairman, but two years later swept from office by what he calls "a political deal."

In December Geary and a new regime on the County Board were back in power with a promise to bring new openness and direction for Lake County.

"People get the kind of government they want and deserve," Geary said. "If they don't watch elected officials and continually look over their shoulder they may wake up some day to find a law they don't like or a new tax they don't want."

Democracy at its finest occurs at the polls. It also comes with disagreement, both between parties and individuals, Geary noted. This is how he got "religion." It was during a debate with the Grayslake mayor on the impact of new subdivisions.

"At one time I thought every new home, apartment and condominium added to the tax base," the board chairman said. "Then I started comparing. Taxes shot up for sewer, water, streets, services and schools," he said of a average $10 tax increase for each single-family home, $6 for each apartment and $5 more for every condominium.

"That's why I am a believer in open space," Geary said. "It might take property off the tax rolls, but this is cheaper than developing it."

"Open space more than pays its own way," Geary said, "by increasing the value of surrounding properties and improving the quality of life." He predicted an increase in the number of people supporting this concept in years to come. "This will make Lake County an even more desirable place to live," he stated.

Alcoholics do not suffer alone ...

We get hurt, too.

Alcohol and drug abuse afflicts an estimated 59 million Americans, young and old, male and female. And the number of people whose lives are affected - even endangered - by an alcoholic is even more alarming. People like employers, co-workers, neighbors, friends, spouses and, most regrettable...children. Did you know, for example, that a child with one alcoholic parent has a significantly greater chance of developing alcoholism than the child of non-alcoholic parents?

At Victory Memorial Hospital, we're helping alcoholics (and their friends and families) recognize and understand their illness. Victory offers unique outpatient and in-hospital programs. And we have specific programs for the chemically dependent adult or teen.

If you need help, or would like to learn more about the disease of addiction, call Victory's 24-hour resource line at 688-HELP. We can help the hurting stop. Call today.

Ballock replaces Phillips as president

by PETER RECHENBERG

Millburn School has appointed Bill Ballock as interim school board president. Ballock is replacing Paul Phillips who resigned last week after seven years as head of the board. Ballock was school board vice president for the past six years so he moved up to replace Phillips on an interim basis.

Lee Smithey also resigned as the School Dist. 41 superintendent. Smithey will stay on as superintendent until June, at which time his contract will not be renewed.

Phillips said he resigned because he was made an election issue by the chairman of the Citizens Action Party, Bob Warrender. Warrender is running for trustee in the April 4 election in Lindenhurst. "I removed myself from the school board because I was made an election issue," Phillips said. "All the allegations that Mr. Warrender made are absolutely ridiculous."

Warrender has claimed that Millburn School has been mismanaged financially and the whole situation at the school is a "complete disaster." Warrender also said that Phillips' position on the school board and his job as Lindenhurst village attorney create a conflict of interest.

Phillips has denied the mismanagement of funds charge. "Millburn school is not wealthy, but most schools aren't wealthy," Phillips said. "Enrollment has increased and the voters in Lindenhurst approved our $1.8 million addition. I love Millburn School and I've been elected to the school board twice," he said.

"Bob Warrender has never had anything positive to say," Phillips said. "He's making personal attacks on me just for his political gain."

Smithey said he has done a lot for Millburn School and he thinks it's time to move on. "I've done an awful lot since I've been here and I've also made a few enemies since I've been here," Smithey said. "I think it's time for me to move on, so I've submitted my resignation."

Under Smithey's direction district 41 passed a referendum for the $1.8 million addition onto the school and that project has been completed. Also under Smithey children's test scores were improved and the school has planned for future growth. Millburn will also be starting an Advanced Instruction at Millburn program (AIM) in 1990.

Smithey has also been blamed for the mismanagement of funds by CAP Chairman Bob Warrender. "The allegations made by Warrender are totally false," Smithey said. "We have auditors who come in every year and they don't find any problems at our school."

Smithey said the school has grown a lot in the past few years and that growth costs money. "Our enrollment has gone up from 187 children to 320 children," Smithey said. "We've also had to hire more teachers and build an extension on to our school and that costs money."

Smithey admits that Millburn School will have to borrow money to make it through the school year, but he says that isn't uncommon. "When you have a lot of growth in a short period of time it takes a while for the state to give you the extra funding," Smithey said. "I don't understand how Mr. Warrender got this idea about the mismanagement of funds at Millburn School."

Lizard talks about new marina on Petite Lake

by LIZ SCHMEHL

(312)395-5380

Hello readers, I have a lot to tell you this week. I recently received a phone call from a resident of Beachwood Blunt Subdivision in Antioch Twp. Many subdivision residents seem to be concerned about the construction of a new tactics of actual ice hockey.

For experience in actual ice skating, parents must drive a good distance or hope for good ice on the area lakes. All present for the discussion felt it would be great if Antioch had its own indoor ice arena. If you think an ice arena would be an asset to our town, call marina located on Petite Lake, off Richmond Ave. If you live off of Rena Ave. and Grass Lake Rd., the caller suggested you take a drive by and see the changes first hand. If you are concerned about what you see, you might call one of the trustees of the Beachwood Blunt Subdivision or one of your local politicians to voice an opinion.

Hometown Goodies

Mary and Mike Nolan just returned from an enjoyable vacation in Las Vegas. However, we must all come down to earth some time. Now Mary is having fun stripping off wallpaper in an effort to redecorate. No contest, Mary, Las Vegas sounds like the better of the two activities.

Rich Cheterbok said his broken arm seems to be healed after his recent mishap. Laurie Cheterbok is glad to have a new car. It looks really nice in her driveway, and when she masters using the stick shift she may even drive it somewhere.

A belated birthday to "Spud" Galdine. Spud was two years old on Dec. 26. Also, a belated birthday to Linda Boerman. Linda's birthday was Dec. 17. Sorry I forgot you, Linda. It is hard remembering all these dates at my age. I'll try harder next year.

Speaking of Linda Boerman, she has a new friend. His name is Woody. She met him at Alpine Ski Lodge in East Troy, Wisc. This was Linda's first time on skis. She said something about the bunny hill looking so small when standing at the bottom. When the two rope took her to the top of the hill, it suddenly became Mt. Everest. This didn't stop Linda, though. Down she went and met her new friend, Woody. Incidentally, Woody is a wooden fence!

I recently had an opportunity to talk with several parents concerning the boys' iceless hockey program. The consensus of the group was how pleased everyone was that the sport has been extended to include the sixth and seventh graders. Julie Groh, spokesperson for the group, reminded us all that Antioch Community High School has an ice hockey program. She feels that iceless hockey prepares the boys for some of the rules and me and I'll keep a list of all interested parties. If there is a lot of interest, then maybe a meeting with the town officials could be arranged. Who knows, Antioch just may be the home of the next star of the Chicago Blackhawks. Why not?

Glenn Tointon informs me that Jan. 30 is the scheduled date for the opening of his business in the building next to the old General Store on Main St. Antioch Family Sport Center is relocating because the present business site is scheduled to be torn down. The center also houses a T-shirt shop, offering screen printing and transfers. They will also be offering a new machine that can transfer any photograph, album cover, poster, whatever, onto a T-shirt. The original photo will remain undamaged. I urge you all to stop in and buy a T-shirt with this logo— "Remember to Call the Lizard!"

Sunday, Feb. 5, is International Scout Sunday. Julie Groh, scoutmistress of Pack 80, informs me this day is celebrated by Boy Scouts everywhere. It is like a birthday for scouting. So, Happy Birthday!

Boy Scout Pack 80 will hold their annual Blue and Gold Dinner at Grass Lake School on Feb. 5. Scouts and parents will enjoy a fine potluck dinner. Awards will then be given for special scouting achievements.

Feb. 21 is the second big event for all the scouts in Pack 80. The annual Pinewood Derby will be held at 6:30 p.m., also at Grass Lake School. Rick Hansen and Dan Wiegel are the two "handsome" race officials. They will be in charge of checking the derby cars for proper weights and judging the winners. Everyone will recognize Rick and Dan as the officials because they will be wearing "checkered" arm bands. Good luck to all Scouts who enter the race. I am sure Julie Groh will let us all know who the winners are.

Debbie Foerster, I think your quest for "Twiggie" is over. Someone in the Fox Lake area found an old white dog who is deaf and blind. Sounds like Twiggie to me. If you still have last week's paper, call and you may finally be able to end your search.

Irene, Lisa, Laura and

Lynne Falcone recently returned from a luxurious vacation in sunny Florida. They had a three-bedroom suite with a living room and two baths. The weather was 82 degrees and sunny the entire time. Some people get all the breaks!

Speaking of Florida, I understand that Mike and Lorrie Christopolus have renewed subscription to the Antioch News Reporter. Mike and Lorrie were long-time Antioch residents and enjoy receiving their old "hometown" paper in their new home. Make sure you all call us northerners from time to time and keep up posted on happenings in Florida. We don't care if you make us green with envy. We love hearing from you.

If anyone out there is in charge of a springtime fun fair carnival, I suggest you contact Sylvia Vaughan. Sylvia is very artistic and does an excellent job in face painting, at least she used to. Speaking of Sylvia, I'd like to thank her

Sequoits play Stevenson and Niles this weekend

by PETER RECHENBERG

The Antioch Sequoits will try to rebound from a 59-48 loss to Warren as they will be hosting Stevenson tonight at 7:30 p.m. The Sequoits will travel to Niles North tomorrow night to take on the Vikings. Tipoff is scheduled for 7:30 p.m.

The Sequoits were defeated by the Warren Blue Devils last week by a score of 59-48 but the game was closer than the score would indicate.

Antioch only scored 24 points in the first three quarters and it looked like the Blue Devils would only extend their 19 point lead and coast to an easy victory. However, the Sequoits nailed 5 of 10 three point shots and went on a 17-2 scoring run in the fourth quarter to whitewash the Blue Devils.

Warren's lead down to four points. That's as close as they would get as Warren pulled away late in the game for an 11 point victory.

Scott Gooch led the Sequoits with 17 points and Jeff Becker added 14. Head coach Jeff Dresser was pleased that his players didn't quit. "We could have just rolled over and died when we were 19 points down, but we did a nice job in the fourth quarter," Dresser said. "We cut their lead down to four points but we just ran out of gas."

Dresser said the Sequoits played well defensively but they had trouble with the offense. "We only scored 24 points through the first three quarters," Dresser said. "We didn't run the offense well and we took a few bad shots."

Rockets hope road wins continue at Harvard

Richmond-Burton's boys basketball team will be hoping to continue its road magic when the Rockets travel to Harvard Jan. 27 for a Big Eight Conference game.

The Rockets, who start the week at 3-5 in the BEC will be hoping to close in on the upper division in league play and the .500 mark.

Coach Scott Brunswick's team reversed the home-court advantage this week as it lost at home to North Boone before beating Cincotta-Kingston on the road 65-56.

"I was real disappointed at getting beat at home. We thought we had some people healthy at least physically but we did not play with our heads," Brunswick said.

Against the Vikings, the Rockets got out of the shoot quickly, leading 20-7 after one. But as unbeatable as the home team looked the first quarter, the second quarter was that much negative. North Boone took the stanza 21-4.

"We've started off well a couple of times this season but some players then begin to think it's easy and we let down," Brunswick said.

Roger Hauri started a strong weekend with a 33 point performance. Adam Gardner was next, though, with 11.

"We sat down after the game and talked things over," Brunswick said.

The Rockets listened and played consistently for four quarters against the Cogs. They scored 16, 16, 16 and 17 points in the four quarters.

"We played consistently and intelligently," Brunswick said.

ACHS hires teacher for learning aids

At the last regular meeting of the Antioch High School Board of Education, Tim Noonan, chairman of the guidance department, and Martha Kucyeksi, teacher in the learning assistance program, updated the board on what has been accomplished since the program was started during the 1986-87 school year.

The primary purpose of the program has been to provide academic assistance, social/emotional growth and vocational counseling to students who have been determined to be "at risk" of not graduating from high school.

Sixty-four students are currently enrolled in the program, and according to the improved performance of the students involved, the program has been very successful.

Following the presentation to the board, upon a recommendation from the administration, approved the hiring of a teacher aide for the program.

The board also approved the continuance of the College of Lake County extension center agreement, which allows CLC to provide adult evening college level courses at the high school. Persons interested in these courses should contact the college.

On other business:

- the board approved rental requests from Cub Scout Pack 191 for Feb. 25; St. Peters School for Feb. 1 and 2; and the Antioch Lions Club for April 21.

- the board also approved a request from the Village of Lindenhurst Soccer League to use Polley Field on Saturdays from April 29 to June 24.

- Principal Art Blecke reviewed with the board ways that might be appropriate to recognize top graduates (cum laude status) at the June graduation. The board agreed that something special should be noted on the diploma, as well as some form of visible recognition attached to the graduation gown.

- the board reaffirmed its position to require all student debts to the school be paid by May 15, 1989, or the student will be excluded from graduation exercises.

Bank offers affordable mortgages

State Bank of Antioch is among 51 Illinois lenders and builders participating in the Illinois Housing Development Authority affordable mortgage program for new and existing homes for first-time homebuyers.

The 13th round of the IHDA program recently announced by Gov. James Thompson, provides fixed rate mortgages at a reduced rate for up to 30 years on new or existing homes.

According to bank vice president, Woody Woods, qualified applicants must not have owned a home for three years, must meet purchase price and income limits set by the county, have good credit, and occupy the home within 60 days of closing.

Under the program, a new or existing single-family home, condominium or townhouse is eligible. An existing residential two, three, or four-unit structure, occupied as a residence for at least five years preceding the loan application, also meets eligibility criteria.

Mortgages for new homes are available through participating builders, while funding for existing homes is available through participating lenders.

For full information on the 8.58 percent IHDA mortgage, phone State Bank of Antioch mortgage loan personnel at (312)395-2700.

The seven candidates for the three open trustee seats will appear on the ballot in

Cops get 115 calls

The Antioch Police Dept. was extremely busy with 115 calls over last weekend.

According to Antioch Police Chief Charles Miller, the calls were all for minor incidents that included family problems, children's mischief and fender bender accidents.

Committee plans ACHS 75th birthday party

Antioch Community High School is planning the 75th birthday of its inception in 1915. The Diamond Jubilee celebration will be held during 1989-90 school years.

A committee, which is being co-chaired by Robert Lindblad and Laurel Dahl, consisting of members, William Brook, Richard Dittmer, Louise Gutowski, Ann Aakacek, Betty Lohn, Tom Macek, Donna Nielson, Tim Osmund, Amy Prosise, Steve Wapon, Betty Lou Williams and ACHS student, Mike Stykla are busy planning events for this celebration.

The committee has held three meetings so far. Some ideas that include a special flag, a commemorative plate, a history book, a picnic or banquet and a time capsule have all been discussed.

Tours of the school will be held during the Homecoming, which will be held on Oct. 14. It is also hoped that the parade will include alumni floats. The student council has offered to help the alumni with their floats if it is needed.

The goal of the committee is to get the entire school district involved in the celebration. This includes Antioch, Lindenhurst and parts of Lake Villa. They want to make this event something that will be remembered for years to come.

Help is needed in locating information concerning the school's history and alumni since its beginning in 1915. Any information will be greatly appreciated and can be forwarded to Supt. Gary Allen, 1133 S. Main St., Antioch, IL 60002, or by calling (312)395-1421.

More news will follow as plans develop and information is received. The committee hopes that everyone will become involved because ACHS is a school to be proud of and it has a history that is going to be exciting to discover all over again.

Letter to the Editor

Editor:

It is my understanding that Al Little has recently made the "generous" offer of deeding a strip of land to the village for it to improve and maintain as a pedestrian walkway. I must register a strong objection to the proposal.

I do not object to the creation of a place for our village children to walk to and from town or school, but only a fool would take the deal as offered. First, had you taken the reasonable precaution and exercised your prerogatives in the approval of his various plats, you could easily have required him to put in sidewalks at his expense.

We wouldn't need walkways then, and all the children of the subdivision would have a place to play away from the street.

Additionally, there would be no need for the village to maintain a sidewalk in the same sense that we would have to with the walkway. However, having shown yourselves callous to the obvious needs and safety of the children, the walkway option appears facially attractive.

The second, and more relevant issue now, is that the primary beneficiary of the walkway would be Little and his friends at Northfield Development. They stand to gain from a virtually no-cost and no-liability civic improvement to their subdivisions.

This will enhance marketability at our expense. Isn't it about time we let them sell their own houses without constantly being asked to dip into the public funds to make their deals a little sweeter?

Please do not show yourselves to be chumps. Refuse the offer and save all of us from being trapped into supporting the developers who can afford to support themselves.

"SINCE 1956"

Study body rejects idea of new Rte. 53

by JOSEPH SOULAK

Highways in Lake County are becoming more congested by the year.

In 1980 they were 15 percent congested, according to an analysis by the Lake County Division of Transportation. If nothing is done to improve existing highways they will be 32 percent congested by the year 2005, the same study says.

This is the reason behind the year 2010 review of area highway needs by the Chicago Area Transportation Study. It calls for highway and tollroad improvements throughout the Chicagoland area.

Many are in Lake County, including the controversial extension of Rte. 53 from the Cook County line to Rte. 120 in Grayslake.

This six-lane improvement estimated to cost $550-million has split villages along the proposed route, filled village halls when Rte. 53 is on the agenda and led to several petition drives.

At its Jan. 18 meeting the Policy Committee of the Lake County Transportation Study took a position on Rte. 53. By a vote of 8-3 members will ask the County Board at next month's meeting to oppose the extension and lobby legislators in Springfield.

Opposed are Chairman Norman Geary, chairman of the County Board; board member F.T. "Mike" Graham of Libertyville; board member John Reindel of Mundelein; board member John Balen of North Chicago; Forest Preserve Chairman C. Richard Anderson of North Barrington; board member Suzi Schmidt of Lake Villa; Carl Schrimpf, mayor of Round Lake Beach; and board member James Mitchell of Deerfield.

Favoring Rte. 53 are Lake Zurich Village Administrator Edward Geick, voting for Mayor Henry Paulus; board member Donald Strenger of Lake Forest; and board member Charlotte Kiesgen of Fox Lake. All three said this is the position constituents have asked them to take.

"This is a tremendously controversial project," Geary said. "A lot of money and vested interests want this project to happen."

Extension of Rte. 53 is in conflict with the county's position on growth and acquisition of forest preserve lands, Geary added. "I do not feel the majority of people in Lake County want Rte. 53."

If the County Board supports the body's recommendation—and Geary thinks this will happen—the next task will be to convince Gov. William Thompson and legislators the highway is not needed.

Twenty-year-old plans for extension of Rte. 53 are revived in a freeway-based plan by the Chicago Area Transportation Study for the year 2010. Three companion plans call for reducing area gridlock by improving arterials, improving existing highways and a combination of the two as suggested by villages following their review of the concepts last summer.

"As now planned Rte. 53 is an insult to the people and the environment," said Schmidt, an open-space advocate.

"It's cheaper to buy land and put it in the public trust than it is to build roads," added Graham, the leading open-space advocate in the Lake County. "We have a 1920 mentality on highway planning. We take the easy way out. We are programmed for roads. Traffic only begets more traffic."

Balen suggested the former North Shore Line right-of-way be purchased for a rapid transit system. If Rte. 53 becomes a reality he said provisions should be made for a rail line in the median. "The dollars are all green whether they are spent for highways or a rail system," he said in pushing rail transportation.

One of the planners with the Transportation Study said rail was considered, but it did not "test well." He said some form of transportation would be required to get riders to and from the point of origin and departure.

Mitchell said planners should discourage autos. This can be done, he said, by limiting the number of parking spaces and reduce the size of parking lots. "This will force people to use public transportation," he reasoned.

Again, the study planner said this may reduce the number of cars, but not eliminate the need for new or improved highways.

Other comments at the meeting ranged from "Rte. 53 will be outrageously expensive" and "why should we help Cook County or Buffalo Grove with its gridlock" to "how can the state find $550-million for this project when it has none for new traffic signals on Rte. 22."

Parting words by Martin Buehler, superintendent of the Lake County Division of Transportation were not much consolation for those at the meeting: "Even if the improvements called for in these plans are made we will still have 20 percent congestion on our highways. We will never get back to 15 percent."

Why Rte. 53 is not needed

There are dozens of reasons why Lake County does not need Rte. 53, says Lane Kendig, president of his own Mundelein-based planning firm.

In a letter to the Lake County Economic Development Comm., Kendig expressed strong reservations about extending Rte. 53 from the Cook County line to Rte. 120 in Grayslake.

Following are points he made on behalf of the Village of Long Grove, which he serves as consultant.

* "It is clear now, as it was 10 years ago, that construction of Rte. 53 as an expressway will increase urban development and result in annexations and rezonings to much more intensive land use designations than currently planned."

* "The county and its municipalities cannot encourage the construction of Rte. 53 and, at the same time, sustain the maintenance of estate-types of residential uses in the corridor."

* "Planning for Suburban or Urban development in this portion of Lake County will require the development of water and sewer systems to support that development. This portion of Lake County has no streams suitable for discharge (of sewer effluent). ... The infrastructure costs of development would be tremendous. Water supply for this area is not in the Lake Michigan allocations to central Lake County. It clearly does not make sense to encourage new development on ground water."

* "The speculative interest in the Rte. 53 corridor will continue to retard the needed investment on the western fringes of Waukegan and North Chicago. Encouraging development in west Lake County will come at the expense of these cities."

* "There is a viable alternative.... This involves swinging traffic from Rte. 53 and Lake Cook Rd. and Rte. 53 west onto Rte. 12. This should be done in conjunction with other improvements such as the Lake Cook Rd.-I-94 interchange and six lanes of Lake Cook Rd. between Rte. 53 and I-94. This will encourage growth near full-service communities that desire to grow rather than creating a whole new growth corridor."

* "In addition....the upgrading of Rtes. 83 and 45 to four lanes will, essentially, provide the needed north-south access. Advantage of all these improvements is that they can be done now. Every year pieces of this network can be completed.... The cost will be less than a freeway-based system."

* "The I-94 corridor is a major factor for the county's economic growth. Development of Gurnee Mills and Conway Farms will provide needed jobs in the corridor of the county's greatest strength near Waukegan and North Chicago where that employment is needed. There is plenty of developable land in this corridor to serve future growth."

* "Rte. 53 would subtract from the redevelopment and growth in the I-94 corridor. Because there is no infrastructure in the Rte. 53 corridor to serve the growth, most if not all of the economic benefits will be absorbed in the cost of needed roads and utilities."

* "Worse yet, some of the very elements that make Lake County so attractive—its quality residential lands and rural lands—would be destroyed."

* "By diverting Rte. 53 traffic to the tollway and upgraded Rte. 12, development will be focused into and eastern and western corridor of full-service communities where growth is more appropriate. Wauconda, Lake Zurich, Fox Lake and the Round Lake communities will benefit economically from this."

Not impressed

Highway plans for the future

Highway plans for Lake County for 2010 are explained (at right) for last week's meeting of the Lake County Transportation Study by Martin Buehler, standing, superintendent of the Lake County Div. of Transportation. They are, seated from left, Lake County Board members James Mitchell of Deerfield, John Balen of North Chicago, and Norman Geary, Lake County Board chairman.

Chamber will pick officers in March

Following on the success of its bi-monthly noon luncheon meetings, the Lindenhurst Chamber of Commerce will do the same in March. The date has not been set.

This follows on the heels of favorable turnouts for luncheon meetings in October and January. The catered lunches cost $7.75 and are held in the Lindenhurst facility of the State Bank of Antioch.

Combined with the March meeting will be an election officers.

Terms expiring are those of Corky Gross, president; John Miller, vice president; Dr. Tom Sampolinski, secretary; Val Conn, secretary; and board members for one, two and three years.

A nominating committee of Dr. Dan Fasnacht, Paul Yurs, Gross and Dr. Ted Restarski will select candidates.

Program for the March meeting will be by Lake Villa Township Dist. Library Director Barbara Ellmore. She will talk about services of the library, and the April referendum to increase the library tax rate.

At a board meeting on Jan. 17 a letter was read about donations needed for a new teen center and program in Lindenhurst from Mayor Robert Ratch. A second letter from the Lindenhurst Park Dist. will be awaited before committing an amount.

Also reviewed was a letter stating the Linden Plaza parking lot will be redesigned in the spring. This follows addition of new stores and parking spaces at the plaza last fall.

School bus hung up on Munn Rd.

School bus service resumed on Munn Rd. in Lindenhurst this year, but not without problems.

Following an absence of five years, school buses began traveling the narrow road again this year. It leads from Grand Ave. to the Ravenswood YMCA.

Service resumed with promises of some residents to hold the driver in backing up and turning around at Balboa Dr. This has not materialized on a regular basis and drivers have complained to Supt. of Schools Peter Palombi.

With apartments filling at nearby Mallard Ridge, more students are taking the bus. School officials do not want to discontinue service and force students to walk or have parents drive them to Grand Ave. as happened before.

A meeting was to be held earlier this week with officials of the Red Seal Corp, developers of Mallard Ridge, to see if they can assist in providing continuing service. What is needed is a turnaround area for the bus and sidewalk for students to stand.

School officials say this will be preferable to discontinuing service. "From a safety standpoint we need this or parents to help the bus back up and turn around," board President Robert Link said.

Lindenhurst teens have another dance

The second teen dance was a big success according to Cheryl DeClerck, the Lindenhurst park and recreation coordinator, as 75 teens danced the night away last week at Trinity United Methodist Church in Lindenhurst.

The dance was the second one in Lindenhurst since the park dist. approached teenagers with the idea of having dances and a place to go on Friday night. "A lot of parents were concerned about the teenagers because they were roaming the streets at night," said Lindenhurst Park District President Irene Williams.

Antioch, forest preserve seek same land

by GLORIA DAVIS

Which has more clout when it comes to procuring land, a village or the county? Either the Antioch Village Board or the Lake County Forest Preserve Dist. should emerge the winner in the race to acquire up to 2,550 acres of land east of the village.

Chief Kupsak is featured at Lindenhurst chamber luncheon

by PETER RECHENBERG

The January meeting of the Lindenhurst Chamber of Commerce featured a presentation by Police Chief Gary Kupsak.

Kupsak mentioned in his presentation that police departments in general have gotten a bad image in a sense that policemen are only known as crime fighters. "We are a service type of business," Kupsak said. "Eighty percent of our calls are service calls while only 20 percent of our calls actually deal with crime fighting."

Kupsak stressed that the Lindenhurst Police Dept. depends on the town of Lindenhurst. "This isn't my police department, or the village police department, it's the people's police department," Kupsak said. "Please use us and let us help you. I think you will like what you see."

"We are committed to serving the community and the community can be broken down into three parts: corporate citizens, residents and what Kupsak calls the most valuable assets, the children and youth of Lindenhurst.

"We have several programs that can help the corporate citizens," Kupsak said. "We have shoplifting seminars, a bank security forum, a business security survey, an officer walk-through program and bad check cases."

Kupsak focused on shoplifting and bad check cases. "Billions and billions of dollars are lost each year due to shoplifting and the consumer ends up paying for it," Kupsak said. "The shoplifting seminars will help you recognize the shoplifters."

Bad check cases fall into two categories, continued Kupsak. "If the account is closed it's a criminal matter," Kupsak said. "If it's non-sufficient funds we give the customers 72 hours to come up with the money. We've been effective 90 percent of the time," Kupsak said.

Kupsak also suggested that all means it's harder for your store to be a target for shoplifters and crime," Kupsak said.

As for bad checks, Kupsak has a two step process to follow. "The first step is to know your endorser," Kupsak said. "try to get some form of identification with their picture on it."

"Step two would be setting up procedure that everyone would follow," Kupsak said. "Have the procedure so

The Antioch Village Board claims to have been working on annexing 1,500 of the acres in the Red Wing Marsh-Deer Lake Area, northeast of the intersection of Rte. 173 and Deep Lake Rd., for 18 months, with most of the landowners in that area petitioning the village for annexation.

One landowner was holding the whole thing up, reports Village Clerk Marilyn Sterbenz but he finally petitioned.

The properties in question are the Berkley, Murphy, Hanley, White, Kennedy, Elfring, Springer and Sechrist properties.

The village is not interested in the 10,000 acres that comprise the actual Redwing Marsh and Deer Lake area, supporting any county plans to turn that land into a forest preserve area.

The village board feels that the other 1,500 acres is valuable agricultural land and Mayor Toft and the rest of the trustees feel that the additional 1,500 acres will make the forest preserve district's acquisition too large.

Toft mentions the forest preserve's purchase of Gander Mt., off of Rte. 173 in Spring Grove, a few years ago and says that the district should start developing that area before it purchases too much other acreage in Dist. 4.

According to Sterbenz, no plans for procedures necessary for annexation which includes having all the property owners sign one petition for annexation.

The official annexation is expected to take place on Wednesday, Feb. 1, at the village hall.

Antioch Economic Dev. Don Davis feels that the village has the upper hand in this situation.

Meanwhile, back at the Lake County Bldg., the forest preserve district held its regular Friday morning meeting, subject possible acquisition of 4,700 acres of unincorporated properties.

There were many people at the meeting against the forest preserve's acquisition of the Antioch acreage.

The forest preserve district sent six of the proposals back to the county planner for classification. These parcels include: a 56.7-acre parcel in Newport Twp. adjacent to Sterling Lake at the Van Patten Woods site; a 40.9-acre parcel at the Robinson Gravel Pit in Warren Twp.; a small 0.8-acre parcel adjacent to Daniel Wright

Making his point

Lindenhurst Police Chief Gary Kupsak points out the advantages of Lindenhurst police programs at the chamber of commerce January meeting. Looking on is Officer Kevin Klahs.

nobody would be offended."

The police department is also concerned with general citizens of Lindenhurst. "We have vacation house watches, home security surveys, victim assist programs and an engraving tool that you can use to protect your valuables such as a VCR," said Kupsak.

Officer Kevin Klahs offered suggestions on other aspects of the police department that are especially aimed at young people.

"We have three programs that are aimed at young children," Klahs said. "We have the explorer program, the helping hand and the officer friendly. We want the children to think of officers as friends not as enemies," Klahs said.

Klahs also is excited about the helping hand program. The helping hand program is a program where homeowners or business owners put a hand in their window and that is a signal to the children that they can go there if they don't feel safe. "Our goal is to have a helping hand on every block in Lindenhurst," Klahs said.

Kupsak ended the speech by stressing that the people own the police department. "We're open 24 hours a day and we're a dumping ground for any problems you have," Kupsak said. "Don't hesitate to use us. I think you'll be pleased with what we can do."

NICC: 'We're already there.'

Richard Waters, founder of the Northern Illinois Conservation Club back in 1960, says that his group is upset because included in the Antioch property under consideration for acquisition by the forest preserve are 65 acres being purchased by the NICC.

"This property is already set up as conservation land," says Waters, adding, "there's a pond for the kids to fish in, we do tree planting and nature trails have been carved out of the wooded area."

Waters and his group feel that they have already done more to the land than the forest preserve district will, based on its performance with other land it has acquired.

Waters adds, "If it wasn't for the people who were concerned with the Red Wing Marsh and Bill Brook and his conservation project at Deer Lake, the beautiful wildlife area would not exist today."

He lists the stocking of the wildlife area with quail and wild turkeys and the building of the dams that created the marsh areas as things already done to promote the natural environment of the area.

"The only thing we can do is go to the meetings on Friday and make our objections known," said Waters.

The forest preserve district is scheduled to hold two meetings on land acquisition in the morning and afternoon this Friday.

development are being entertained at this time.

Lindenhurst Mayor Robert Ratch says that the landowners of the same acreage came to Lindenhurst to ask for annexation first but didn't carry it any further when informed of the heavy impact fees that to be levied by Lindenhurst.

According to Sterbenz, "we read about the county hearing of Friday at 9 a.m. in the paper."

A petition requesting this hearing had been filed with the county by supporters of the Antioch Twp. Assn., a pro-open space group.

Toft, who is on vacation in Florida, called a special board meeting for 6 a.m. on the same morning as the county hearing.

"We posted the meeting notice on the door of the village hall on Wednesday and called the newspapers.

About 20 people showed up at the village hall in the wee hours of the morning to hear the board give unanimous approval for the attorney to send out annexation intentions to all the area's taxing bodies and go through the other

Woods along Rte. 21; a 500-acre site around Grassy Lake and Flint Creek in Cuba Twp.; a five-acre addition northeast of Barrington and a two-acre addition to the DesPlaines River trail system.

The last two were final purchase proposal considerations.

The acquisition of the 2,550 acres east of Antioch, a 1,500-acre link between Countryside site west of Mundelein, and the Lakewood site east of Wauconda and a 120-acre prairie site in Highland Park near the intersection of Ridge Rd. will all be considered at the forest preserve district's meeting on Friday, Jan. 27.

Village Atty. Ken Clark says that Antioch will go on with its annexation plans regardless of what the county does. He said he didn't know who had the upper hand if push came to shove, the village or the county.

C. Richard Anderson, president of the forest preserve district, said he was unaware of moves towards annexation made by Antioch and added that the question of who has more right to the 2,550 acres east of Antioch could turn out to be a legal one.

Travel enthusiast trades corporate job for freedom

by KIMBERLY BOLTON

Two years ago, Jim Warnken of Lindenhurst left his corporate job for the chance to travel across the globe.

Most people would agree this thought is tempting. But, would they be willing to trade it for a 90 percent cut in salary?

Warnken did. After working part time for six months with partner, Becky Christenson, Warnken decided to take the plunge and put every waking hour into his own business.

He resigned from his position as a regional showroom manager with Sherwin Williams in October of 1986 to run North Star Travel. Now, just a little more than two years later, the business has expanded into another location with four full-time and two part-time agents working for them.

Warnken has always enjoyed traveling and says that the benefits of owning a travel agency outweigh the fact that money earned is all on a commission basis from airlines and tour companies.

"The financial benefits of working for a large corporation didn't equal the independence of running my own business and having the freedom of traveling," Warnken said.

What makes Warnken an entrepreneur is the philosophy he uses in running North Star Travel.

Warnken believes that there are too many travel agents who hand a few pamphlets to a prospective customer and let them walk out the door never to return.

"Those pamphlets are hard enough for us to read," he said. "I've ran into more people whose friends and relatives planned their trip for them. That's what we, the professionals, are here for," he continued.

except the Far East. He's traveled to Hawaii six times and hopes to live there one day while he works as a travel writer.

Although Warnken is president of the Lake Villa Chamber of Commerce, he says he doesn't really have any free time since he spends seven days a week working in his agencies. Warnken saves his socializing for his trips and says he keeps in touch with friends all over the country that he met in various parts of the world.

The two activities Warnken does enjoy are sailing and scuba diving. He says Hawaii is the best place to dive. One day while on a diving trip on a catamaran, someone who went along to snorkel wanted to know if any of the divers ever spotted a shark in the waters. Ten minutes after the tour guide assured the person that in his eight years in Hawaii, he'd never seen a shark, a seven-foot Hammerhead shark swam around the boat. Warnken said they tried to catch it, but it eventually got away.

Warnken will be speaking and showing films about his travels on March 1 at the Lake Villa Library and again at the March 29 meeting of the Libertyville Lions Club.

Warnken says it's important for travel agents to know where they're sending their clients. He prides his business in having knowledgeable agents who travel often, visit frequented destinations once a year, and rarely send a customer somewhere that they haven't been themselves.

Tour operators sponsor trips called fams (familiarization trips) specifically for travel agents so that they may learn about an area. But, Warnken explained that the tour operators lead the tour with the specific purpose of selling the market and don't always let the agents see the entire picture.

Warnken likes to go on his own trips where he is not recognized as an agent. He says he gets an unbiased opinion of an area which he couldn't get from the fam trips. But, he does take advantage of the cheaper fam trips once in a while. Recently he traveled to the Pocono resorts owned by Caesar's Palace. While there, Travel Weekly magazine took his picture with 10 women in a champagne-glass shaped whirlpool for their cover.

Warnken has a joke about familiarization trips run by tour companies. "There's this travel agent who dies and meets St. Peter at the pearly gates. St. Peter says he's going to give him a tour of heaven and hell and let him pick where he wants to stay. First they tour hell where there's a big party going on and everyone's having a great time. Then they tour heaven where everyone is on their knees praying. The agent picks hell and says it looks like a lot more fun than heaven. But when he goes back, everyone is in pain and sorrow. He asks St. Peter what happened and he says, 'The first trip was a fam trip!'

When Warnken or his agents travel, they spend most of their time looking at hotel rooms. Warnken tries to stay in one-star motels as well as four-star hotels so he is able to plan trips for every budget. He said that one of the agents working for him just came back from a week-long trip to Hawaii where she only spent a half day on the beach.

Warnken says his favorite place in the world is Hawaii and he's been everywhere

Pine Hill Lakes announces Phase II closeout

Phase II close-out sales are currently underway at Pine Hill Lakes, Northfield Development Co.'s new community of upscale single-family homes in Antioch.

"Of the 17 homesites remaining to be sold in the community's first two phases, a limited number of lakeside and hillside lots remain available," said Edward Orlowsky, president of the Northfield-based development firm.

"Not only do these lots provide panoramic views of Little Silver Lake and the countryside, but they're priced at Phase II levels, making them an exceptional value."

Guaranteed for delivery before the school begins in the fall, Phase II homes are available in a choice of eight ranch, bi-level, and two-story floor plans. Ranging in size from 1,232 to 2,900 square feet, most homes feature two to four bedrooms, one-and-one-half to two-and-one-half baths, an attached two-car garage and a full basement (per plan) as standard. Base prices range from $111,900 to $179,900.

Upon completion, Pine Hill Lakes will feature a total of 220 single-family homes sited to preserve as many of the natural amenities as possible at the 80-acre community, formerly the home of a horse farm. A three-quarter-acre conservation park, seven acres of private spring-fed and stocked lakes, and 13 acres of open greenspace will also become part of the completed community, as will walking paths that serve to link these environmental amenities.

To visit the sales center and fully-furnished model homes at Pine Hill Lakes, take the Tri-State Tollway (I-94) north to the exit at Rosencrans Rd. (Rte. 173), Drive west to Deep Lake Rd. and then turn north to Little Silver Lake Rd. Turn west and drive one-half mile to the site.

Hours are from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m.

Monday through Friday, 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturday, and 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Sunday. For more information, phone (312)395-6447.

Cuneo land donated

VERNON HILLS---Two segments of the Cuneo Estate property, covering a total of about 25.5 acres, have been donated to the Village of Vernon Hills. The properties are located along a stretch east of Butterfield Rd. and at the northeast corner of Rtes. 60 and 21. They cover land areas of 10.3 acres and 11.2 acres. The location of the properties means that unincorporated Libertyville Twp. and Mettawa are no longer contiguous to the Cuneo property annexed by Vernon Hills.

Early meeting

ANTIOCH --- The Antioch Village Board held at special board meeting at 6 a.m. in the morning last week concerning the annexation of approximately 1,500 acres of land east of the village off of Deep Lake Rd. At 9 a.m. the same morning, the Lake County Forest Preserve Dist. met to discuss the acquisition of the same acreage in a 2,500 acre package among other properties. Who will get the land is now the question. The Antioch Village Board will continue the annexation process with Feb. 1 set for the official annexation. The forest preserve district will have the acquisition of the same land on the table this Friday.

Mayor Smith, Willen?

GRAYSLAKE---Filings completed, the mayor's race has Geary-backed Melinda Willen facing Marvin "Marv" Smith in the April elections. Incumbent Village Clerk Adell Laurin is running unopposed. Phil Harris is the only incumbent trustee to file. Filing for park district commissioner, four-year term, are Virginia Russell, Esther Schroeder, Larry Lenzen, and incumbents Louise Wickersheim, Terry Norton, Ken Grosvenor, and Walter Stock Art Gill is the solo two-year term candidate.

Battle over crosses

WAUCONDA---Trustees of the Wauconda Village Board will hold a special meeting Tuesday, Jan. 31, to discuss the lawsuit filed by the law firm of Sachnow, Weaver and Rubenstein, Chicago. The suit questions the legality of the village cross display on two water towers. The village will meet in executive session at 8 p.m.

Candidates file

NORTH CHICAGO---Candidates have filed as independents for the April election. Filing in ward six was Bryan Oglesby, who will challenge Ald. Edwynne Ford. Earl Pitts will challenge Ald. Clarence Gains in the third ward. In the seventh ward, Leon Rockingham, Jr. will seek the nod along with William Coleman. The ward's alderman, incumbent, Earle Lovelace, decided not to seek re-election. In the city's primary Feb. 28, Mayor Bobby Thompson will face Patricia Cansler.

Scholarship deadline approaches

High school students who are interested in applying for $1,000 college scholarships should request applications by March 16, from Educational Communications Scholarship Foundation, 721 N. McKinley Rd., Lake Forest, IL 60045.

To receive an application, students should send a note stating their name, address, city, state and zip code, approximate grade point aver-

Mayors opposed

ROUND LAKE AREA---There are opponents in all Round Lake Villages mayors' races. Round Lake Beach will see incumbent Carl Schrimpf face independent Robert Boness. James Lumber and Rudy Magna, Sr. will face-off in Round Lake. Trustee Donald Newby and Cole M. Akins, Sr. will be on the Round Lake Park ballot. Round Lake Heights will see incumbent Trustees Sandra K. Morris and Madeline Romich running against each other. Three incumbents have filed for the Round Lake Area Park Dist. Board of Commissioners; Jeanne Goshgarian, Susan E. Thomas, and James L. Shook.

Park views

GURNEE---Concerns regarding drainage, a liquor license and others will be the topic of discussion when the Gurnee Plan Commission meets Feb. 1 to consider a proposal for a teaching oriented golf facility in Gurnee. Named Gurnee Golf Park, the facility would border on 18 acres of land which is next to Gurnee's border with Park City. Contract purchasers are Elizabeth Nelson, Michael Sway and Gerald Lewandowski.

Ericson runs

THIRD LAKE---Third Lake Mayor Paul Ericson will be seeking a full four-year term as mayor in the April 4 general election. Ericson, a former Third Lake trustee, has served as appointed mayor since former mayor Charlie Mann resigned in August, 1988.

Seek rate increase

MUNDELEIN---Another increase in the education fund tax rate for Fremont School, amounting to a 47.24 percent hike, is proposed by the board of education of Fremont School Dist. 79, and will find a place on the ballot during April 4 elections. The education fund tax rate would be increased by 60 cents, which would increase the total tax rate for this fund to $1.87.

Southridge OK

GURNEE---A proposal to expand Southridge Farms development won a vote of confidence from the Gurnee Plan Commission at its last meeting. Commissioners voted unanimously to pass on to the village board a favorable recommendation for the extension of the subdivision by 55 acres off Washington St.

Rte. 53 plan panned

LAKE ZURICH---No Rte. 531 That was the message delivered loud and clear by those attending a two-part public hearing this week in Lake Zurich on what is more formally known as the 2010 Transportation Development Plan. The opening afternoon session was held at the Lake Zurich village hall. Due to an overflow crowd the evening portion was moved to the Senior High School.

Future based on past

Gurnee's growth and development can best be described as breathless. A just-completed interim census pegged Gurnee population at 11,342, an increase of nearly 10 percent in little more than a year. There's little doubt that Gurnee will be growing just as fast in the years to come.

While thoughts are focused on the present and future, Gurnee isn't overlooking its past. This is exemplified by a community-wide project to restore the legendary Mother Rudd home, a pre-Civil War structure said to be a key stop on the underground railroad where slaves were spirited out of the south to safety in the north and Canada.

Mayor Dick Welton calls the restoration a sign of progress. And, indeed, it is. Any community that takes time and money to preserve a bit of the past is, without a doubt, a progressive place to live. The laudable endeavor means that, with a strong link to the past, Gurnee will be on a firm footing for building the future.

The restored landmark will become the permanent home of the Warren Twp. Historical Society, a most appropriate home, we hasten to add.

The difficult years

Lindenhurst has embarked on a trail where other communities have tried and failed—establishing a teen center. Mayor Robert Ratch is spearheading a fund raising campaign to establish a location where teens can meet on a regular basis. We wish him well.

The current effort is a response to a problem we've heard often in the past—"There's nothing to do around here for kids." That lament is both true and false. Depending on your viewpoint, and your age, there's either a lot to do or there's zippo. Part of the problem is the rigid, structured recreational environment in which we raise children in the suburbs. After years of Little League, dancing classes, story hours, Scout meetings, and so forth, teens yearn to be on their own.

The teen center is a partial answer. Only the kids want to do their thing with minimal supervision. That can be the rub.

Mayor Ratch knows what attracts young people—a place to rap, bowl, play pool, see a movie, enjoy a Coke. Unfortunately, private enterprise doesn't provide those facilities in Lindenhurst or a lot of other places in this locality. Oh, for the days when the kids could hop a streetcar and go downtown for a movie and a milk shake!

There's another perplexing side to the story. As soon as young people reach driving age, the problem of nothing to do, no place to go melts away like magic. We don't envy Mayor Ratch and his Lindenhurst project. The "difficult teen years" are—well—just plain difficult.

Back off, Lincolnshire!

Private good and public need are clashing head on in Lincolnshire. Morris and Dorothy Bernstein feel they are going to be evicted out of their dream homesite by the Village of Lincolnshire exercising powers of eminent domain to build a new village hall and police station.

The Bernsteins and village officials like the land for the same reasons, its central location and scenic amenities, including a pond. Lincolnshire pursued purchase of the property through amicable means and a going rate offer. The Bernsteins rejected the village offer for a very understandable reason: it's their land and they want to use it to build a nice home. Part of the property, originally acquired in 1956, has been whittled away for relocation of Rte. 22 and construction of a bicycle and bridle path for Lake County. The Bernsteins can't be blamed for feeling "enough is enough".

Negotiations are at the point of getting ugly. The Bernsteins have been stalled in efforts to begin construction of their home, for some rather flimsy floodplain excuses, and what could be regarded as stonewalling on the part of the village in processing the couple's building permit application.

There doesn't appear to be any overriding evidence that the Bernstein site is the only place that the much needed police building and village hall can be located. Lincolnshire ought to back off and seek another site or make an offer the Bernstein's can't refuse. There are times when the heavy-handed power of government should be kept in harness. In our opinion, this is one of those times.

Hulk's on the way?

Gurnee neighbors have learned to live with Great America's zooming roller coasters and the cacophony produced by a giant amusement park. And so, apparently, must the neighbors of Softball City deal with the distractions of light and sound emanating from a modern recreational center.

Just when nearby residents thought they had the sports complex located in Hainesville contained to night games, village officials approved extension of hours to midnight for events like rock concerts, wrestling, fireworks and other promotions. This, on top of the nagging "pop, pop" from the nearby Northbrook Sports Club shooters. Mayor George Benjamin thinks residents of Highland Lake, Grayslake and Round Lake Park can "live with" the additional lights and sounds. Several trustees aren't so sure.

Just wait until the likes of Hulk Hogan and the Grateful Dead show up. Life in the suburbs is getting tougher all the time.

Viewpoint

Fighting Illini facing agony of No. 1 rating

by BILL SCHROEDER

Getting there is often more fun than being there. Number 1, primo. The "catbird seat".

That has to be part of the feeling these days of the Fighting Illini basketball team, a remarkable group of athletes—remarkable because they are a top-ranked collegiate basketball team without the obligatory hardwood giant at center; remarkable because they are all state boys playing for their state school.

Coach Lou Hanson, moving steadily up in the ranks of the winningest collegiate basketball coaches of all time, enjoys both the thought and sight of his "little guys" going up against the big guys. That makes for comfort and good rhetoric when your team is laboring for recognition. But when you reach the top of the plateau, a different set of circumstances come into play. Pressure, stifling, near suffocating pressure, the object of coast to coast admiration, but also the priority on hit lists drawn in both big and small quarters.

This pressure assuredly contributed as the Orange and Blue staggered and stumbled to a win the other night at Northwestern, which always plays 10 points better in football and 20 points better in basketball when it faces the land grant rivals from downstate. Only whirling Kenny Battle was equal to taunts of "State School, State School" from fans at the expensive North Shore private university. Kendall Gill left his three-point bomb sight in Champaign-Urbana. Lowell Hamilton became so frustrated he slapped at a ball, and drew a technical, gleefully dispensed by a referee who acted like he was more accustomed to blowing a whistle in junior high games in Deerfield or Lincolnshire. Nick Anderson wandered in and out of the game like a commuter searching for the Skokie Swift. Steve Bardo couldn't penetrate a thicket of Wildcats protecting the basket. In short, the Illini were ripe for an upset, but they didn't buckle. Instead, they worked with their off-night blahs and went home with a seven-point win, an undefeated status and a lock on No. 1.

Winning the close ones may be the big difference for Illinois this year, that and being able to shoot free throws. Even Henson handles the closing minutes better, and has built depth into the current group of overachievers. The U of I quintet doesn't even have a set starting team, but something Coach Henson has fashioned as a "starting seven".

After being battered by repeated football recruiting scandals, a penny-pinching General Assembly and the sight of busloads of engineering professors defecting to well-heeled Texas schools, the University of Illinois is due for some good news.

Last time the Fighting Illini were ranked No. 1 in basketball was 1952. I only realize that was 37 years ago when I look into the mirror. That was a Final Four year and the Illinois finished third, mentally exhausted by No. 1 pressure.

Getting there is fun. Staying there is agony.

JAZZ EVENT---A premier musical event is unfolding for Feb. 21 that will delight local jazz lovers. The Woody Herman Band under Frank Tiberi with trumpet star Clark Terry as featured soloist will perform at North Chicago High School in a benefit for the North Chicago Grade School band program.

Interest in Terry's appearance is expected to be sky high because Terry was a member of an all star group while serving in the Navy during World War II at Great Lakes Naval Training Center. "This will be a homecoming and a reunion for Clark Terry," exclaimed Band Director Bill Clark who said proceeds will go for scholarships and new uniforms for his young musicians.

The show has been put together by Bob Davis, former Lake County businessman and jazz buff who used to live in Lake Villa and now is doing bookings for jazz artists. Your correspondent, a Herman Herd fan from way back, can't wait to get further development.

*****

ON HIS OWN—Vern Thelen, prominent Antioch/Fox Lake area businessman with interests in farming, gravel mining and banking, is pulling for Spring Grove to establish an independent electrical utility. Thelen would like to be the first customer. Thelen generates power during daylight hours at Thelen Sand and Gravel, Rte. 173, and saves $10,000 a month on his electric bill. Saving is the whole idea back of the Spring Grove plan.

Politically Speaking

Closing of Ft. Sheridan appears to be a foregone conclusion. After years of similar fire drills, all that remains is for someone to turn out the lights.

This, of course, has brought up interesting suggestions for future use of the property. They range from a military cemetery to new national park.

"The park idea isn't new," says State Sen. David Barkhausen (R-Lake Bluff) of the 30th Dist.

He noted his father, Henry, who served as director of the Dept. of Conservation during the early 1970s, recalls plans for a lakefront park at the military base.

"These came up when there was talk about Ft. Sheridan either being closed or giving up a portion of its acreage," Barkhausen said. "I assume those plans have been collecting dust and now might be useful as we begin thinking about alternative uses for this land."

"Time is running out," said Round Lake Park Mayor George Scherer, "so I am going to walk out," he said of retirement this spring from the public limelight he has basked in for some 28 years.

Now 73, he served 20 years as a trustee before becoming mayor eight years ago. He succeeded the late Walter Bengson, who has a park named for him across from city hall. Scherer served as mayor pro tem the last six months of Bengson's term due to illness.

"I've seen too many people carried out of here," Scherer said of sickness and old age that caught up with his colleagues. "I want to leave here smiling."

President George Bush promised us no new taxes during the fall election campaign. He and members of Congress avoid the T word like the plague.

But that doesn't mean a thing. According to USA Today, there could be:

'Invasion'

by JOHN MATIJEVICH
STATE REPRESENTATIVE

Foreign business investment in this country has become a double-edged sword. For areas of the country where unemployment was up, communities have welcomed with open arms foreign businesses, particularly manufacturing companies that have hired large numbers of American employees. For American businesses and investors, though, the invasion of foreign business brings a chorus of concern that favoritism and incentives have allowed foreign companies to do business here. There is legitimacy to both ends of the spectrum.

Foreign investment in America tops $1.5 trillion, and some say that it may even double that figure. Although the investments comprise only five to six percent of total assets, the rate of growth should be a matter of concern. Also, we should be concerned that there are no absolute reporting requirements to monitor foreign investments.

Why discuss the issue? Isn't it a federal issue? Yes...but it impacts on the total economy and it impacts, too, on the state.

In Illinois, we have seen how foreign investments have been fueled by benefits and incentives offered by the state and local governments. Businesses here have been rightfully offended that "freebies" given to foreign companies impact negatively on U.S. companies. Our businesses say, and rightfully so, that it's unfair competition, because those same foreign countries don't provide similar * Revenue enhancers—Anything other than a tax increase.

* Loophole closers—Wiping out tax breaks for certain groups of taxpayers.

* Base broadeners—Applying an existing tax to more income or individuals.

* User fees—Charges for government services.

* Offsetting collections—Recouping government expenses.

* Cats and dogs—Small sums that add up to millions.

When reviewing the December bills, Lake Villa Twp. trustees last week threw out one they called unacceptable. It was a $24 luncheon tab for two people in the assessor's office.

Using a little math, they said $24 divided by two is $12. Since no receipts are needed for expenses below $15, they said one was unnecessary.

Secondly, the receipt didn't really look all that official. It was on a napkin.

If you spot what you think is an official-looking orange license plate ahead of you while driving down the highway, you better believe it is.

All legislators got new Omaha-orange plates with blue lettering when sworn in this month. These replaced white plates with lavender lettering.

Every two years legislators get new plates with colors of a state university. Those for the next two years are the colors of the University of Illinois.

The 59 senators vie for plates with the number of their district. Sen. Adeline Geo-Karis (R-Zion) of the 31st Dist. has plate No. 31.

Over in the House, the 118 members get plates based on seniority. State Rep. Robert Churchill (R-Lake Villa) of the 62nd Dist. has No. 54. The goal of him and all other representatives is plate No. 1 held by Zeke Giorgi (D-Rockford), who has held office for 24 years. He's the dean of the House. Plate No. 3 is held by John Matijevich (D-North Chicago), who has been around two years less.

Don't get the idea the plates are a perk. "I have to pay the same $48 as anyone else," Churchill said.

Voters are getting smarter and more sophisticated, So says County Board Chairman Norman Geary.

He said the public is becoming better informed about the candidates and issues. Additionally, the caliber of people living and working in Lake County is on the rise—socially, economically and intellectually.

"Those of us in politics who hope to keep the voter's trust will have to be public servants in every sense of the word," said the man who has been in office for some 26 years.

Geary said the trend is noticeable at the polls and public meetings on important issues where turnouts are increasing.

A quick check with the county elections office verified this, to a point.

Four years ago 177,250 or 77 percent of the county's 229,067 registered voters went to the polls in the presidential election. Last November 183,754 or 78.1/2 percent of the 233,867 eligible voters did the same.

At that rate, sometime in the middle of the 21st century, everyone will vote in every election.

assembly workers, but the huge profits will line the pockets of foreign investors. What will happen to our standards of living?

Right now, foreign investors and companies now hold a majority interest in such industries here as concrete and consumer electronics, approximately one-fifth of all assets in United States banks and one-third of the bank assets in major cities like Los Angeles, and are nearing owning almost half of the prime commercial real estate in major cities in the country.

As we begin a new administration in Washington, don't you agree with me that "reclaiming America" and its economy by Americans should be a high priority?

Municipal League banquet

Officials to star in movie

First footage of what will become a classroom film about the duties of township officials was previewed at last week's meeting of the Lake County Twp. Officials Assn.

The 10-minute segment covers the duties of assessor. Additional footage will feature other office holders from supervisor to highway commissioner and clerk to trustee.

"At some point we want to approach schools about having a week or several days of a civics or history class devoted to township government," said Fremont Twp. Clerk Barbara Behm, who hosted the Jan. 19 meeting. The film will be shown in the class along with use of an appropriate study sheet or text augmented by an appearance from township officials.

It is not known if the film and suggested course will be ready for the start of the 1989-90 school year.

"Right now we would like a corporate sponsor Behm said of the need for a firm to finance the filming of the remaining segments. William Donnan, a trustee in Ela Twp. and school teacher, is coordinating the film and educational project.

The film and course are directed to students in junior and senior high school.

"These students and their parents have heard about presidential elections and those in Chicago, but know little about grassroots elections like right here in their own township," Behm said.

"We want to stress the benefits and services of township government as well as the duties and obligations of the office holders," Behm said. She served as president of the Lake County group for four years in the 1970s and is now a director.

Behm said there is no equivalent film or study course on the state level. She is second vice president of the Illinois Twp. Officials Assn. enroute to election in a year or two.

"If our project is successful we may be able to distribute it statewide," Behm said. "There is a need for something like this in counties other than Lake. After all, township government is statewide."

At the same meeting Becky Goldberg, director of the Lake County Museum in the Lakewood Forest Preserve, had a slide presentation about the museum.

Next meeting of the association will be at the Grant Twp. hall in March.

Septics are safe until next crisis

by JOSEPH SOULAK

Another crisis for septic tank users, haulers, installers and contractors has been averted. No moratorium will be imposed on new septic tanks in Lake County. The talked-about possibility arose when Fox Grove banned haulers from dumping at the village treatment plant as of Feb. 1.

Deciding this week a moratorium is not the answer were members of the County Board's Health and Public Service committees. They met jointly on Jan. 25 before an overflow audience of 150 persons, including septic haulers, installers, home builders and interested homeowners.

In response, three short-term solutions were advanced:

1. Fox River Grove will continue to allow septic waste dumping on a limited basis barring neighborhood complaints about odors and traffic.

2. Negotiations will begin with the North Shore Sanitary District to accept septic pumpings at the Waukegan plant.

3. Farm fields will be explored by haulers as a way to dispose of waste, which is now done on a limited scale at two farms near Wauconda.

A newly-formed Wauconda-based organization calling itself the Northeast Illinois Septic Contractors Assn. will work with the two committees, County Board and Lake County Health Dept. to implement the short-term solutions and develop a long-term one. Rick Nelson said the organization was formed the night before consisting of septic haulers, contractors or installers and builders.

Join the Fitathon

The American Cancer Society, Lake County Unit will be sponsoring "Surf and Turf Fitathon." Participants will be swimming, biking, walking, running, and doing aerobics. The event is set for Sunday, Feb. 5, and will be hosted by The Medical Center of Lake County at its Centre Club, located at 200 W. Golf Rd., Libertyville, (312) 861-6100.

Each registrant is asked to secure pledges for the event in which they participate. Registrants must be eight years of age or older.

Events will begin every hour on the hour beginning at 11 a.m. through 5 p.m. Participants will be scheduled on a first-come, first-served basis as registration forms are returned. Call the American Cancer Society for a registration form at (312) 336-9293.

"Whatever is done there will be no septic tank moratorium," County Board Chairman Norman Geary assured the large crowd that attended based on such hearsay. "That idea creates false hysteria." Those attending breathed a sigh of collective relief.

He explained only a few sewerage treatment plants in Lake County have the capacity or legal status to accept septic wastes. One is Fox River Grove. Another is in Vernon Hills, but this is under a state moratorium pending expansion. The North Shore plant in Waukegan can accept this waste, but only for residents of the district, who pay a sewer tax. Residents in other areas of Lake County pay sewer user fees. "Since homes with septic pay neither an annual tax or user fee they have no direct access to treatment facilities," Geary said.

Cost to dispose of an average septic tank pumping of 1,000 gallons is $39 at Fox River Grove and upwards of $100 at other locations, some haulers at the hearing said.

Haulers in the northern part of Lake County have no problem since they dispose of the waste on farm fields in Wisconsin.

Colin Thacker, environmental engineer with the Lake County Health Dept., said two contractors received approval last week to deposit waste on Wauconda-area farms. He said the 200 to 300 acre farms can accept no more than 5,000 gallons per month.

Topography and drainage are major considerations in such approval. Thacker said at least two other farm-application permits are pending.

Problems with accepting septic waste at sanitary treatment plants is that it has a strength 20 to 50 times greater than domestic sewerage, contains sand or grit that clogs piping and upsets the balance of the plants because it is an unanaerobic state.

These are some of the problems experienced at Fox River Grove said Martin Galantha, superintendent of the Lake County Public Works Dept. Additionally, he said nearby residents complained of odors, spillage and traffic along streets of their subdivision. Galantha said he did not know how Fox River Grove could make money by accepting septic waste at a rate of 1 cent per gallon when other communities were charging at least 3 cents and 4 cents.

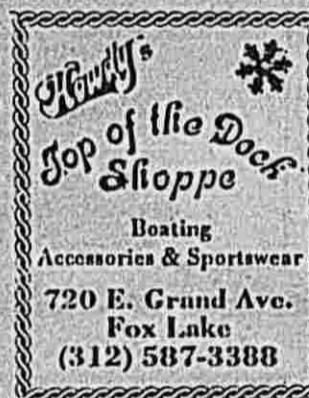

At the beginning of the meeting upwards of eight haulers indicated a presence at the meeting, most from the Barrington-Lake Zurich area. By the time it ended more than one hour later only two said they had an immediate problem. That will be resolved in upcoming meetings between county officials and those from the new organization.

Bobbie O'Reilly of Long Grove, Dist. 6 County Board member, recalled this problem goes back to 1976 when first brought to the board's attention. "The old timers did nothing about this, so it is now up to us newer members," she said of her and other recently-elected members of the board.

Announcing new program

Gordon Johnson, director of the Illinois Dept. of Children and Family Services, announces a new program of family preservation services called Family First. Program will be administered in Lake and McHenry counties by Central Baptist Family Services. Its goal is to prevent the unnecessary removal of children from their home by providing a broad range of intensive services to families when the first danger signs of child abuse or neglect show themselves. # Gurnee seminar to focus on marriage issues

"Why do people get married anyway?" asks marriage counselor Dr. Gary Chapman at his frequent marriage seminars.

Chapman says the big reason that people give is "we love each other". "But," he asks "what happens when love stops?"

Chapman, author of several books and articles on strengthening and repairing marriages, will be discussing this and related problems in Gurnee on Jan. 27-28. "Toward A Growing Marriage", a biblical seminar on marriage, will be held at the Village Church of Gurnee auditorium, 1319 N. Hunt Club Rd., beginning at 7 p.m. on Friday, Jan. 27.

Another common complaint in marriage, according to Chapman, is the feeling, "my partner won't change", and therefore I am destined to misery". Dr. Chapman responds, "Don't you believe it! Your marriage can improve, and improvement can begin today, regardless of your partner's attitude".

Dr. Chapman, author of "Hope For The Separated", acts as associate pastor and director for adult ministries at Calvary Baptist Church in Winston-Salem, North Carolina. In addition to almost daily involvement in both pre-marital and marital counseling, Chapman is a regular speaker at family living conferences, and has held "Toward A Growing Marriage" seminars across America and in several foreign countries. His years of study, insight and counseling have helped salvage or revive countless marriages.

Registration for the Gurnee seminar is open to married couples, engaged couples or single individuals, but registrations will be closed when the registration limit is reached. The registration fee of $20 per married couple or $15 per individual includes a copy of Chapman's book "Toward A Growing Marriage". The seminar is presented by the Moody Bible Institute of Chicago as part of its nationwide series of family living conferences. For more information contact Jean Jacobsen at (312) 329-4122 or Moody Bible Institute at 1-800-621-7105.

Outdoor shows help make leisure activities pleasurable

We who recognize the outdoors as the stage for our pleasures, lifestyle and very existence, watch carefully as the president and his appointees attack the complicated problem of saving our good earth. A 1,200 page, environmental agenda, with over 700 suggestions and recommendations, gets high priority.

The Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) pledges a sharp cut in carbon dioxide emissions, elimination of chlorofluorocarbons and resulting "greenhouse effect", plus concentration of "renewable energy", such as solar power collection, use and storage. Controlled sun energy is a resource free of contaminates and free for the using.

Attendees at the Chicago Boat Show may have noted that one of the boat companies is utilizing solar power collectors and storage for a lot of the extras found on houseboats, such as interior lighting, battery charging, fans, radio, TV and supplemental outlets. Same is true for RV operators, tenters, cabin owners, and none of it creates noxious gasses or other pollutants.

A non-breakable charging unit can be purchased for less than $100, which will supply a two watt flow and 15 volts, best used with a charge control unit to reinforce a 12 volt system.

Those who leave boats and RVs for long storage periods can know their 12 volt system will be ready on demand. The sun will furnish the energy and there is no charge.

Thoughtful outdoor persons and travelers may wish to collect more information from the several outdoor shows slated through the next couple of weeks.

On Friday, Jan. 27, the granddaddy of Chicagoland outdoor shows will be launched at Rosemont's O'Hare Expo Center for the 10th year. Allow time to select from 900 exhibits of tackle manufacturers, travel destinations, boats and related outdoor products, fishing demonstrations and "how to" seminars by the pros.

The Sportfishing, Travel and Outdoor Show runs 10 days with admissions of $5.50 and youth six-12, $2. Added information is available by calling (312) 299-3131.

Upcoming thereafter is the Fox Valley RV and Camper Show at Pheasant Run in St. Charles. It opens Friday, Feb. 3 at 2 p.m. and runs through Sunday, closing at 5 p.m.

Enjoy good times and food at Carmel's 'Street Scenes'

A short trip to Carmel High School in Mundelein will guarantee an unforgettable evening. Enjoy hours of good food, refreshing drinks, music and outstanding entertainment when the 15th annual Street Scenes' "Spoofs the Classics" will be presented on Friday, Feb. 3, and Saturday, Feb. 4.

The doors open at 6:30 p.m. both evenings. Entertainment rooms and refreshment areas will be open all evening. While on-campus parking is limited, additional parking will be available at various close-by marked parking lots along Hawley St. in Mundelein. Free shuttle bus service will be provided for the short ride to Street Scenes.

Arrive early and stay late to enjoy the 12 shows and 13 lounges in classrooms and halls that have been transformed into a night club atmosphere. There will be a midway area featuring games of skill. The variety of food includes such taste-tempting items as home-made pizza, corned beef sandwiches, brats, chicken wings, pastry, Edy's Grand ice cream, yogurt and a breakfast of pancakes and sausages.

Returning this year is the ever popular Student Show, "The Curly Girly Revue", featuring passage on several ships including a pirate ship with songs from Gilbert and Sullivan. Waukegan's Marva Joyce Dance Studio will present a "Kaleidoscope of Songs".

Some of the local entertainment returning this year include the Seminarians, the Chicago Gear & Transmission Co., the Swingin' Jazz Kids, Rapid Transit, Keyboards Plus, the Kolar Group and the Smile and Grease bands. New to Street Scenes this year are Just Us, Swing 'N Easy, the Saltman's, the Sittler Group and Tressa Thomas of North Chicago.

Admission is $10 per person. Food, drinks and the midway games of skill are an additional cost. Tickets are available at the door, or call (312) 566-3000 or (312) 356-2874 for information or advanced tickets. Visitors must be 21 years of age or over to enter. Carmel High School is located on Rte. 176 on the west edge of Mundelein.

Huck Finn and Company heads to Marriott

Marriott's Lincolnshire Theatre presents the Mark Twain/Roger Miller All-American musical "Big River" (The Adventures of Huckleberry Finn) beginning Feb. 1 and playing through April 9.

Mark Twain's classic American novel makes for a musical as mighty as the Mississippi and just as rambunctious, thanks to Roger Miller's pickin', sidlin', foot-stompin', hand-clappin' score.

The winner of the Tony Award for "best musical", "Big River" is having its stock premier production at Marriott's. Director David H. Bell is the first person to bring a new concept to the show since its 1985 Broadway inception.

"Mark Twain wrote such brilliantly conceived characters that we are lucky enough to get to see the world through Huck Finn's eyes," says Bell, "and that's what makes this the great American adventure."

"Big River" is a sweeping musical saga that celebrates Twain's classic observations of 19th century homespun America. Huck Finn (William Akey) and the runaway slave Jim (Michael Lofton) escape civilization and begin their famous raft journey down the mighty Mississippi River into the heart of adventure.

William Hauptman's stage adaptation of this American myth is filled out and colored in with the rousing Roger "King of the Road" Miller score. Miller's indigenous southern and western American idioms are ideally expressive of Twain's characters, including one lively song after another, featuring "Muddy Water", "River in the Rain", and "You Oughta Be Here With Me".

The cornucopia of Twain's characters in this ensemble cast features Skip Sudduth (Pop/Andy/Harvey/Silas), Kevin Ferguson (Tom Sawyer), Ray Frewen (the Duke), Ron Keaton (the King/Judge Thatcher/the doctor), and Susan Moniz (Mary Jane). Completing the cast are Felicia Caldwell, Jeanne Croft, Mary Ernster, Tim Gregory, Brent Hendon, Leslie Holland, Diane Houghton, K.C. Lupp, Robert Mason, Joseph Wright and Bernie Yvon.

Produced by Kary Walker, this premier production of "Big River" brings back to Lincolnshire director/choreographer Bell. The set, which evokes images of the journey down the Mississippi, is designed by Thomas Ryan, with lighting designed by Diane Ferry Williams, costumes designed by Nancy Missimi, prop design by Kathy Klaisner and sound design by Randy Allen Johns.

Reservations are with a major credit card, by calling the box office at (312) 634-0200.

Arts association plans pop concert

The Chain O' Lakes Cultural Arts Assn. has completed another successful year of growth and development due to the interest and contributions of the Chain O' Lakes community.

The Cultural Arts Assn. is a non-profit organization, tax deductible contributions will help to provide for the Chain O' Lakes community orchestra and will allow them to bring other quality events to stimulate the area's growing interest in the fine arts.

This year the first event will be a Spring Pops Concert and dinner at Maravala's in Fox Lake on April 30 at 5 p.m. The Chain O' Lakes Orchestra will perform in concert from 6 to 6:45 p.m., dinner will follow.

They are combining their spring concert with the very well received Pops Concert in hopes of reaching an even wider audience.

Ticket donations will be $12.50 per person or $92 for a table of eight. This will include a complete sit-down dinner and a wonderful spring concert.

Plans for this spring also include an art show featuring talented high school students. The intention is to introduce these aspiring artists to the way a professional art show is done, replete with art catalog and opening reception.

The third annual Christmas concert is tentatively scheduled for Dec. 17, 1989. The last Christmas concert held at Trinity Evangelical Lutheran Church in Ingleside was a huge success with a standing room only crowd. This year's concert will include costumed Madrigal singers as well as the Chain O' Lakes Orchestra and the Trinity Church choir.

The Chain O' Lakes Cultural Arts Assn. has long been interested in the preservation of the colorful history of the Chain O' Lakes area.

Chicago will be displayed in the Woodstock Opera House Community Room during the month of January.

Inara Cedrins Sander is returning to the Woodstock Opera House where her watercolor paintings were on exhibit in the month of February, 1988.

Sander's education includes a bachelor's degree in writing from Columbia College, Chicago, and graduate studies in printmaking from the School of Art Institute of Chicago. She is known not only as an exquisite painter but is also well known as a translator, poetry writer, illustrator and an educator.

Her paintings can be seen in

'Piano Lesson'

Lou Myers plays Winning Boy in the 'Piano Lesson' reviewed by Lakeland critic Tom Witom.

at opera house

the following locations: State of Illinois Building, Orchestra Hall, Chicago Center for the Print, Prairie Avenue Gallery, Wild Horse Gallery and Wenniger Gallery in Boston and several galleries in Indiana.

Her solo exhibitions have taken her all across the country, highlighting her wood engravings, lithographs and etchings as well as her watercolors. She is indeed a versatile artist and the Woodstock Opera House is pleased to host her again with her new exhibition of recently completed works.

The exhibit is free to the public and can be viewed during the normal hours of operation, Monday through Friday, 9:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m.; Saturday, 9:30 a.m., through the evening performance (if any).

Sander was recently asked by Chicago Magazine to illustrate a theme issue on Chicago neighborhoods this coming April. She is currently working on expanding her Grand Canyon Series of watercolors.

'Piano Lesson' is slice of black life

by TOM WITOM

August Wilson's "The Piano Lesson," having its midwest premiere at the Goodman Theater, gives a slice-of-life look at the black community in the mid-30s.

And the view at the Doaker Charles home in Pittsburgh is heart-rending as an estranged brother and sister are locked in battle over the fate of an old piano, a family heirloom.

For Bernice (S. Epatha Merkerson), the instrument has the kind of sentimental value that money could not buy.

Its history is intimately linked to her life. A long-gone great-grandfather carved the piano's legs with the faces of relatives divided by slavery.

To her brother from the south, Boy Willie (Charles Dutton), the piano is a commodity from whose sale he could earn enough cash to set himself up as a farmer. To his mind, it's the ticket to a life of independence.

In its essence, the entire play hangs on this conflict. During the three hours it takes for the drama to unfold, many an open wound is exposed and more than one ghost from the past comes calling.

Wilson has a good sense for dialogue. And his characters pick up the rhythm, singing, shouting and whispering as they fight for survival.

One of the most mesmerizing moments comes when four cast members break out into an old work song, a haunting reminder of their roots.

Later, Boy Willie, looking to the future, casts a spell as he tries to convince his sister to unload the piano. The way he puffs up his cheeks, shakes his head and sputters all at once epitomizes his frustration.

Director Lloyd Richards has done well with the supporting cast. Paul Butler is fine as Doaker, a solid old black who does what he can to keep peace in the house; Rocky Carroll breathes life into Lynn who's reborn when he gets a new set of clothes. Tommy Hollis spits fire as the budding preacher and Lou Myers is a consummate master of blues.

"The Piano Lesson," though filled with discord, hits many of the right notes. It runs through Feb. 18.

A Guide To Vacation Photography

by JIM WARNEK, PRESIDENT
NORTH STAR TRAVEL, INC.

If you're seeking detailed technical information about things like F-stops, shutter speed, focal lengths and the like, try magazines with titles like "National Photography Monthly". I am just a guy with a Cannon Sure-Shot whose job allows him to travel to some really neat places.

Let's start with camera types. The word here is keep it simple. You're on vacation to have fun. Invest in one of the "does it all for you" cameras. I would recommend a 35-mm, though. The larger negative will usually give a better picture.

Skip the fancy lenses unless the sole purpose of your vacation is to come home with a picture you can sell to "National Geographic". (Actually, most of the photographs in that publication are taken with the same 50-mm lens that comes with your camera, using film you can buy at Oso.)

An accessory I would recommend is a polarized filter. It allows you to shoot pictures through the window of your tour bus without ending up with a picture of your reflection.

Now let's get to subject matter. Pull out the pictures from that last trip to Florida and find the ones you really like. Most likely, they contain something called a "center of interest". I don't mean the shot of the family standing in front of the car under the sign "Welcome to Disney World", but more like the one of little Joey smiling with joy (or fear) when he first meets Mickey Mouse. That shot sure beats the one of the ocean from your hotel room window.

In other words, a person, object, or some action lends a center of interest to a picture.

Take more than one shot of an interesting situation. Film is cheap considering the disappointment if your one picture does not come out. Early morning and late afternoon provide the most dramatic lighting. Other suggestions for an interesting shot? Look at the postcards in the gift shop. Blend their ideas with your own and create a masterpiece!

Involvement is a responsibility to share gifts: Scott Sanderson

To get to first base takes a team effort; there must be people behind you involved in getting you started when you need a hand -- not just in sports but in whatever you pursue in life.

Involvement was the topic stressed by Chicago Cub's pitcher Scott Sanderson when he was guest speaker at the fifth anniversary celebration of Big Brothers and Big Sisters of Lake County at the Country Squire banquet facilities in Grayslake. The theme "Helping Kids to First Base" personifies the early intervention work of Big Brothers and Big Sisters.

"Number One, I applaud those who are involved in Big Brothers and Big Sisters. Number Two, I'm here to at least challenge others present at this banquet, who will find out about Big Brothers and Big Sisters, to get involved," Sanderson said in an interview just prior to the banquet.

"I guess the reason I do this is I feel that since I've been given so much that I feel a responsibility to give back to those who haven't been so fortunate.

Young artists' competition

Twelfth Dist. Congressman Philip M. Crane reminded young artists in the district that they once again will be given an opportunity to participate in "An Artistic Discovery". The project, an event designed to uncover creative talents of young Americans, is sponsored by more than half of the members of Congress.

The art work of the winner of the 12th District will be placed in the 1989 Artistic Discovery Exhibition in the U.S. Capitol and will remain on display for one year. The winner will be announced on April 22.

"It says in the Bible, 'To those who have been given much, much is expected,' and I take that seriously," Sanderson said. People need to ask themselves why they were given their talents; to use them selfishly or to help others.

He feels confident as a public speaker, Sanderson said, since he strongly believes in what he says. A speech becomes easy to deliver, he adds, "If you are confident in the message, and the importance of the message."

Sanderson said he doesn't always accept invitations to speak, but does so when they involve good causes and reputable organizations.

The Eye Care Center of Lake County

By Steven D. Reinglass, MD

A THREATENING EYE SITUATION

A retinal detachment is a serious eye problem that may affect a person at any age and affects one out of every 10,000 people each year in the U.S. It is most likely to develop in people who are very nearsighted or in those whose relative has experienced a retinal detachment. Retinal detachments may also be associated with aging, trauma, and certain hereditary diseases. If not treated early, a retinal detachment may lead to permanent loss of vision. Most retinal detachments are caused by the presence of one or more small tears or holes in the retina.

DESCRIPTION OF THE RETINA

The retina is a thin, transparent tissue of light sensitive nerve fibers and cells. The retina functions like the film in a camera with images focused on the retina and transmitted via the optic nerve to the brain. The retinal "film" lines the inside wall of the eye.

Once a retinal tear is present, a watery fluid from within the eye may pass thru the hole and flow between the retina and the back wall of the eye. This separates the retina from the back of the eye and causes to "detach" the retina. This results in decreased vision. There are some detachments which are not caused by holes and are secondary to diabetes or inflammation.

SYMPTOMS

If you notice "floaters", which are floating black spots or "webs", and flashes of lights and/or a dark shadow in some parts of your side vision, a comprehensive medical eye examination by an ophthalmologist is necessary. The ophthalmologist will check the back of the eye to determine if retinal tears are present. Such an exam is desirable as soon as symptoms develop because fresh retinal tears may be treatable without complicated surgery.

TREATMENT

Retinal tears without detachment of the retina can be treated with laser surgery. This creates a scar around the hole or tear which seals the retina to the back wall of the eye. If the retina is actually detached, more involved surgery is indicated to repair this problem and restore vision.

Dr. Reinglass is associated with The Eye Care Center of Lake County which has offices in Waukegan and Fox Lake. He would be pleased to answer questions on eye care and can be reached at 244-1657.

Catastrophic passed, price

by JOHN MATIJEVICH
STATE REP.

citizen group in the country lobbied this past year for a federal catastrophic health care bill, and it was enacted. Now, seniors are finding out that there is a price-tag to it, and congressmen are being bombarded by calls to take another look at the way that the system will be funded.

In Springfield, we're having our own troubles trying to get approval of start-up funding for a comprehensive health insurance program (CHIP). It is expected that $5 million will be agreed upon in the January session.

The federal law expands Medicare coverage to include hospital stays of more than 60 days, and provides payment for excessive physician and drug costs. To pay for the expansion, the Medicare premium that 98 percent of beneficiaries pay for the optional Part B program will increase by $4 a month. The supplemental premium, therefore, will be $373.20 in 1989. It will gradually increase from $4 a

Eye Care caters to seniors

Seniors are working hard to maintain their independence for as long as possible and do not wish to be a burden on anyone. The Eye Care Center is very aware that vision plays an important role in keeping a senior active and vital. "Not only should a physician be concerned with the medical aspects of patient care, but there should also be a concern for their social well-being," states Dr. Seiller.

That is why The Eye Care Center of Lake County has developed a Senior Services Dept.

The department concentrates in two areas. The first one is concerned with community outreach activities.

Other community activities the Senior Services Dept. contribute to include the Senior Advisory Board who, among many other projects, annually assist in planning and participating in Halloween Eye Scream Social for seniors. The Restored Eyes Club, also sponsored by the department, has as its members people who have had eye surgery. These people volunteer their time to counsel future surgery patients to that they feel comfortable about the upcoming surgery.

The other main focus included in the Senior Services Dept. is surgery care.

The Eye Care Center has two offices, one in Fox Lake and the other in Waukegan.

Health bill unpopular

nth to $10.20 a month in 1993, bringing the total yearly payment to $511.20. There will also be a supplemental premium added to taxable income. The 60-percent of beneficiaries who owe less than $150 a year in federal taxes will pay up to $800 a year in supplemental premiums in 1989.

In practical terms, married couples with a joint income of $10,000 or less will pay no supplemental premium. Those with a joint income of $20,000 will pay $23 a year, and the $800 ceiling will be only after joint income reaches about $90,000.

The furor over the long-term health care bill for seniors points to the same old problem. It's one thing to set up a program that everyone wants; it's another thing to set up a way to pay for such programs. Already, an Illinois congressman, Harris Fawell, has said he will introduce a bill to repeal the law in next year's term.

You can't get something for nothing. We have all become aware of the costs of health care. The costs of long-term health care can "wipe out" families in a hurry. Even those seniors who are "moderately well off" should realize that catastrophic illnesses can deplete their resources, too.

It seems to me that Congress acted responsibly by enacting the Medicare Catastrophic Coverage Act of 1988. No insurance program is "free". If there were some magic way to pay for it without "hurting" someone, I'd be all for it.

The bottom line is that someone has to pay." Under the plan, the vast majority of seniors will receive high-quality long-term health care at fair premiums. They will be protected against financial ruin if protracted illnesses occur. Without such a program, the worst could happen.

Offers income tax help

Free Federal income tax, Illinois income tax and Illinois circuit breaker assistance will be available to the residents of Lake County starting Jan. 30. This assistance will be available to the older citizens and is provided free through the tax-aide program of the American Assn. of Retired Persons (AARP).

Volunteer counselors, who have been trained by the Internal Revenue Service will be available to all sites listed.

Taxpayers using the service should bring with them copies of last year's Federal, State and circuit breaker forms. They should also bring with them their 1988 tax forms along with all 1099 and W-2 forms which will list all of their income and social security income for 1988. All tax exempt income information is also required.

See chart at right for the sites in Lake County along with the dates and hours of operation. For more information, call (312) 662-1201.

Prairie Services, Inc. aids with legal advice

Prairie State Legal Services, Inc., is a not-for-profit agency which provides free legal assistance in emergency, civil matters to low-income and elderly persons. Prairie State serves residents of 29 northern Illinois counties through nine local offices. Each office has an advisory council while there is a board of directors for the program as a whole.

The Waukegan Area Advisory Council serves as a liaison between the office and the Lake-McHenry County communities. The council offers advice and recommendations to the managing attorney and office staff on program directions and certain policy issues. The advisory council does not set policy or make budget decisions as does the board of directors—although the council does appoint the client-eligible members on the board of directors.

The council is made up of 13 members, plus ex-officio members. Ideally, there will be members from each of the following groups: the client community; the senior community; the corporate community; union leadership; social service providers; local business; and the private bar.

While membership on the council does not require a substantial commitment of time, the success of the council is dependent on the active participation of council members. The full council meets at least five times per year; meetings are generally at the office in Waukegan. Meetings have usually been held at noon, but this has been changed from time to time.

For more information about Prairie Services, Inc., call (312) 662-6925.

SCOUTING REPORT

Grant at Grayslake

Date: Jan. 27.

Location: Grayslake Community High School.

Team records: Grayslake 11-5 overall, 6-0 in NWSC; Grant 7-8, 4-5 in NWSC.

Game time: 7:30 p.m.

Keys to game: Rams are now the clear team to be knocked off in NWSC race, but Bulldogs might just do it. Coach Tom Maple's team has now won five straight games. Bulldogs are led by Kip Paul, who averages 16 points a game. Coach Greg Groth figures the game to be a classic between long-time league rivals. Grayslake is led by Timm West at center with more than capable guards Jim Neumann and Tim Hough threats from the outside.

Prediction: Rams by seven.

Lake Zurich at Wauconda

Date: Jan. 27.

Location: Wauconda High School.

Team records: Lake Zurich 4-12 overall, 1-5 in NWSC; Wauconda 1-12, 0-5.

Game time: 7:30 p.m.

Keys to game: one thing is for certain. Two teams who have taken their collective lumps in the NWSC will clash. Combined record of both is 5-24, so don't expect a classic. Lake Zurich still has two threats in Scott Krezeminski and Jack Denny which must be stopped from the outside. Wauconda counters with Dion Niemo, who is coming off a 27 point showing against Johnsburg.

Prediction: Wauconda nets a "Pack The Place" win in a close game by two points.

Stevenson at Antioch

Date: Jan. 27.

Location: Antioch High School.

Team records: Stevenson 5-11 overall, 2-7 in North Suburban Conference; Antioch 7-10 overall, 4-5 in NSC.

Game time: 7:30 p.m.

Keys to game: Antioch stayed with Warren for three quarters after a bad start so Coach Jeff Dresser's team is looking for a better first quarter. Antioch is led by Scott Gooch and Matt Pellan in scoring. Stevenson counters with Cleveland Tyson and Craig Holder. Coach George Katich liked how the Pats cut down on turnovers against Zion-Benton.

Prediction: Antioch by five.

Libertyville at Warren

Date: Jan. 27.

Location: Warren Twp. High School, Gurnee.

Team records: Warren 13-4 overall, 8-2 in NSC; Libertyville 11-5 overall, 6-3 in NSC.

Game time: 7:30 p.m.

Keys to game: Warren is back in the middle of a heated North Suburban Conference race because the Devils fell at Fenton Saturday. Mark Eifert is coming off 22 point performance and Warren showed it could hit the three-pointer with seven. Libertyville, only a weekend sweep away from being in the hunt with Warren, North Chicago and Zion-Benton.

Prediction: Warren by three.

Marengo at Round Lake

Date: Jan. 27.

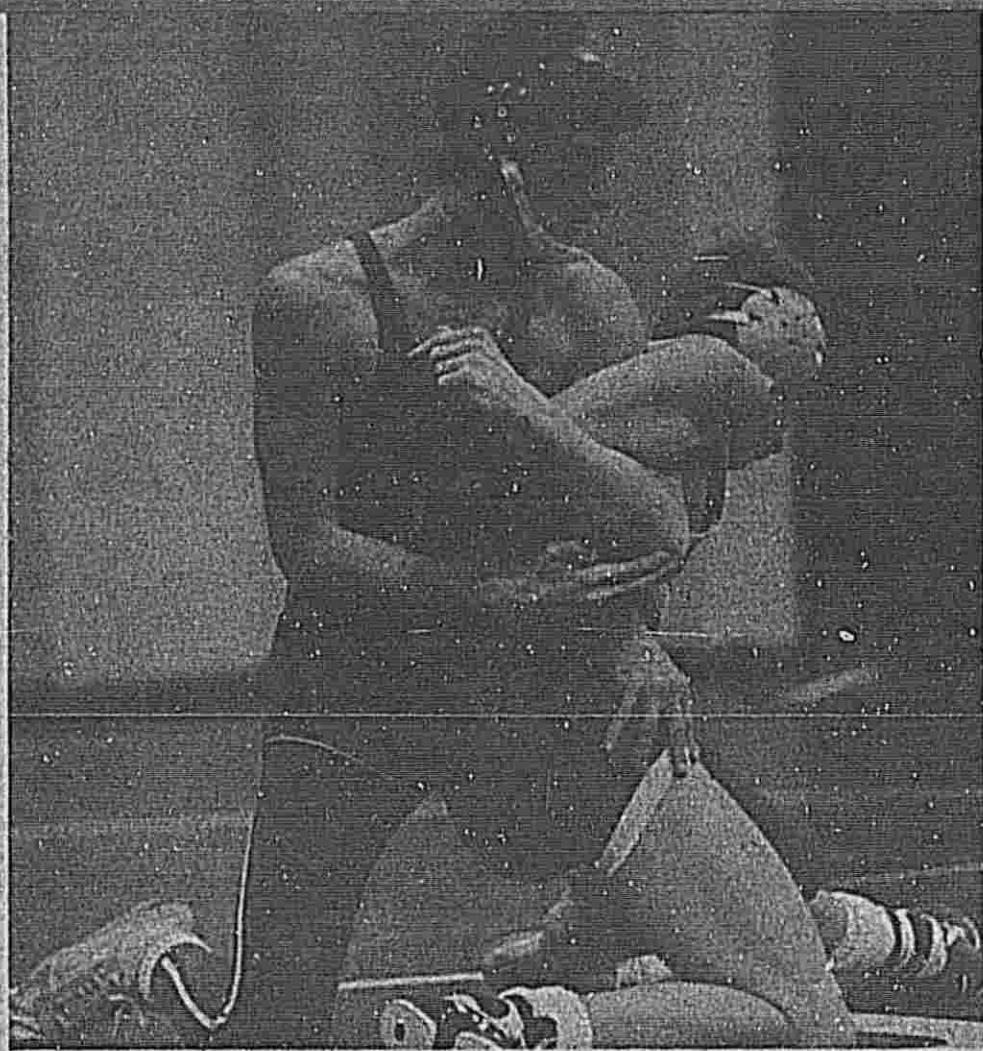

Location: Round Lake High School.

Team records: Marengo 11-4 overall, 5-2 in NWSC; Round Lake 6-9 overall, 2-5 in NWSC.

Game time: 7:30 p.m.

Keys to game: Round Lake must stop Trent Pace, Marengo's leading scorer. Panthers counter with Scott Hall providing inside baskets and Rick Haines shooting from the outside.

Prediction: Round Lake by two.

Officiating gives coaches Woodard, Jeffrey different perspective

By STEVE PETERSON
Sports Editor

It's the end of January, the "off-season" for softball coaches.

Time to attend to administrative duties, teach and think about starting lineups for the upcoming season and dream about post-season success during the balmy month of May.

But for at least three Lake County softball coaches, the definition of an off-season is changing. Instead of making plans, Warren's Chris Woodard and Zion-Benton's Mary Beth Zolli are making calls. Both are being kept busy officiating underclass basketball games.

Carmel's softball coach, Linda Jeffrey, spends the fall months officiating volleyball games.

"It would help every coach to officiate," Woodard said.

Jeffrey, a Grayslake resident, agrees.

"You just learn to adjust to calls," Jeffrey, who has also umpired softball games, said.

Jeffrey said she has emphasized accepting calls and judgments by umpires to her Corsairs.

Woodard and Zolli, a Vernon Hills resident, officiate games in the Central Suburban League, Northwest Suburban and North Suburban Conferences. This is not the first time Woodard, Warren's girls sports coordinator, has officiated, but times have changed since the last time the two donned whistles and headed for the hardwood.

"It's been a 15-year layoff. We both went to college in DeKalb at Northern Illinois and we would officiate games at the high schools around DeKalb. When we first started to officiate in college, they played six to a side in high school," Woodard said.

What prompted Woodard and Zolli to get back into officiating? It's probably not the money, as officials make about $42 for two freshmen games.

"We were sitting around and talking about how there were not many women involved in basketball," Woodard said.

"It's a way to stay in sports," Jeffrey said.

Not only has the girls basketball world graduated from six-on-six, but the level of play has increased tremendously since the days of the Girls After School Sports programs. "Everybody now runs a press.

Overtime

That's the part of basketball most fans probably don't realize is so tiring and stressful," Woodard said.

At the freshmen level, the games are not in prime time with coaches jobs possibly on the line. It's a time for learning. For both players and officials alike.

"You don't have the pressure of a varsity game but a lot of strange things can happen," she said.

As any basketball fan with a VCR knows, the most difficult call is the block vs. the charge.

"Half the people in the stands will yell either way. It's a judgment call. As a coach, I've never lost a game because of officiating," Woodard said.

Jeffrey said coaches sometimes yell at officials because they do not know the nuances of a rules change.

"The best defense for any official is to know the rules," Jeffrey said.

"Sometimes you get a hothead coach who wants to put you on the spot and embarrass you in front of their team and the fans. That's one part of it I really dislike," Woodard said.

Although some fans and coaches treat games as life-and-death struggles, the secret of a good official is to know what is going on but staying objective.

"I do not look at the score. You want to

Cager Report

Warren, although falling in an upset at Fenton, is still the leader in this week's Lakeland Newspapers prep basketball poll.

The top five:

Warren: (13-4, 8-2) the Blue Devils have a race on their hands again in the North Suburban Conference with the loss at Fenton. Warren, hosts Libertyville before traveling to Stevenson this weekend. Mark Eifert is coming off 22-point showing against Fenton and also was leading scorer in win over Antioch.

Grayslake: The Rams are alone in the second position this week after a 58-36 rout of Lake Zurich. Grayslake is 11-5 overall and undefeated in six Northwest Suburban Conference games.

Carmel: the Corsairs dropped to the third slot because of a tough overtime loss to St. Viator. Carmel, 10-6 overall and 4-4 in the East Suburban Catholic Conference, bounced back for a win over St. Patricks.

Wilmot: the Panthers beat rival Salem last week but fell to Whitewater for a 9-2 overall record heading into this week's action.

North Chicago: the defense is back in North Chicago. The Warhawks surrendered just 19 points for three quarters in a 51-44 win over Mundelein. Warhawks are 9-7 overall and back in the race for the NSC's top spot at 7-2.

Sequoits, Mustangs lead Lake County gymnasts

Antioch High School's gymnastics team had a couple of clear-cut-goals before the start of this week's dual meet competition.

"We'd like to score 130 points and beat Lake Forest," Coach Debbie Ramsey said.

The Sequoits entered the week off a strong fifth place finish in the Lake County meet. Host Mundelein was the only area team to better Antioch, who scored just below that goal of 130 points with 126.4.

Antioch's efforts were highlighted by Sue Ramig who was the champion in the all-around.

"I knew if she would put her mind to it she would do well," Ramsey said.

Teammate Jamie Stewart also fared well for the Sequoits, finishing first with a 9.1 in vaulting.

Ramsey is pleased with the progress the team has made this year, describing them as a group of motivated self-starters.

Stewart, who was prepared to compete in the all-around if Ramig was not healthy, had a 7.5 on the beam and 7.3 on the floor exercise.

Mundelein, meanwhile, was paced by Kelcey

Sullivan and Michelle Strachan. The home team finished with 131.8 points, seven points behind meet champ Barrington.

Strachan tied for fourth with Carolyn Curley of Carmel with an 8.9 in the vault.

Sullivan was first on the beam with a 9.5.

Carmel was seventh with 124.7 points. Wauconda, who will be competing in the Northwest Suburban Conference meet at Grayslake Jan. 28, edged Stevenson for ninth at 122.1 to 117.7. Lake Zurich had 114.4 and Grant 96.1. Grayslake finished last with 14.3.

Kessel paces Sandburg to tournament crown

This basketball season has not featured many highlights in Mundelein.

The Mustangs did win three games and third place at Hampshire's Holiday Classic, but the Mustangs are winless in the North Suburban Conference through nine games.

Mundelein basketball fans attending a junior high tournament at the College of Lake County last weekend saw some hope for the future.

Kyle Kessel, son of Mundelein coach Dennis Kessel, scored 21 points to lead Carl Sandburg to a 36-33 win over Viking Junior High in the title game.

The first annual seventh grade tournament was sponsored by Pat's Pizza of Grayslake and proceeds went toward College of Lake County's baseball team's spring trip.

Jason Shamrock, who was named to the all-tournament team, of Viking won the free-throw shooting contest.

The all-tournament team consisted of: Dave Johnson of Lake Villa Intermediate; Chad Lee of Oak Grove;

Chris Kohn of Woodland; Eric Kochler of Gavin; Jeff Woods of St. Peter's; Kevin Danzel of St. Peter's; Thad Miller of Carl Sandburg; Mike Strachan of Carl Sandburg; Sean Crevier of Viking was also selected.

Warren, Antioch wrestlers fight for second in NSC

Warren and Antioch's wrestling teams will be heading area North Suburban Conference contingents when Fenton hosts the NSC meet Jan. 28.

The Blue Devils won the battle between the two schools in the head-to-head fight for second place 35-19 in Gurnee last week.

Half of the points come from the dual meets and the other half from the conference tournament.

"It will be a battle for first and second place," Warren Coach Mark Tiffany said.

Warren won several close battles against the Sequoits to for an 8-1 record in the NSC, good enough for second place behind NSC leader Libertyville. Antioch finished the dual meet season 7-2 in the NSC.

"We had a lot of close ones. It was one of those meets that was closer than the final score indicated. They're very experienced with 12 seniors while we have four," Antioch Coach Ted DeRouse said.

The close battles which tilted the match to Warren's favor included a 9-8 win by Bryan Self over Dave Sheppard at 135 pounds, a 7-5 win by Tony Moran over George Valach.

Antioch's key wrestlers at Bensenville figure to be Chris Tointon, who was 17-8 at 103 pounds before the Warren meet; Sheppard at 135; Mark Moran at 152 and Tom Lohn at 145.

The Antioch match was also historic for Keith Friedman. Friedman won an 8-0 win over Mike Sandrik for his 90th career win.

Warren is led by undefeated senior Mike Frecking at 152 pounds. Frecking defeated Mike Briscoe in a technical fall in 5:17 for his 26th straight win.

Friedman is 24-2 overall heading into the conference meet with both losses coming against Lake Forest.

Friedman injured his shoulder before regionals last winter so he is looking for some post-season success. Friedman was an all-NSC defensive back for the Blue Devils football team.

In addition to Frecking and Friedman, Warren hopes Self, 19-4 at 135; Jeff Foos, 18-9 at 160; Ken Chumbley, 18-9 at 119 are all potential place winners.

Grayslake returns home to face Grant challenge

Grayslake is the center of attention in Lake County basketball circles and not only do the Rams have the lead in the Northwest Suburban Conference, but after playing most of the their schedule on the road, Coach Greg Groth's team is returning home.

But the Rams, the new top dog in the NWSC now with a 6-0 record, will be facing a stiff challenge when Grant comes to town Jan. 27. The Bulldogs, once burdened with woes and a 2-8 record, have won five straight and are poised to challenge for the top spot.

"This will be a classic. The gym will be packed. We're confident going in," Grayslake Coach Greg Groth said.

"This is the most important game all year. If we can go to Grayslake and sneak out with a win, we can be in a position to contend in the second half," Grant Coach Tom Maple said.

Both teams are coming into the 7:30 p.m. showdown off big league wins. Grayslake, 11-5 overall and ranked second in this week's Lakeland Cagers Report, crushed Lake Zurich 56-38 and the Bulldogs topped rival Round Lake 55-45.

"I think we have played a little more consistently for the whole game," Maple said of his 7-8 team's comeback.

Kip Paul is Grant's leading scorer, averaging 16.3 points a game and scored 10 against the Panthers. Guard Mark Miesek was the leader with 14 points.

"We are not going to concentrate on any one player. They're very well coached and they learned a lot from DeKalb (Christmas tournament), too," Groth said.

Grant led 10-9 after one and 27-23 at halftime. The lead reached 15 points before Round Lake rallied.

"We thought we should have put them away sooner but they kept challenging," Maple said.

Maple said the key to the second half was doing a better job against Round Lake's trapping defense.

Rick Haines led Round Lake with 15 points and Scott Hall had 12.

The Rams traveled to Lake Zurich last week to face a Bears team which had scheduled the night as "Pack The Place".

Revenge, road win on agenda for Corsairs

Free-throw shooting, Carmel basketball Coach Scott Rosberg will be the first to admit, has not been the strength of the Corsairs this 1988-89 season.

The Carmel club has, well, struggled at the line. CHS may have turned the corner in its shooting ability from the white stripe, though, in a 64-57 win over St. Patricks.

"Free throw shooting at the end was a big key. Free throws at the end had hurt us in a couple of games," Rosberg, whose troops travel to Marist Jan. 27, said.

The win over St. Patrick was even more memorable when one considers who made the bulk of those free throws. Randy Bierman, who Rosberg said has found confidence at the line, made five of six in the final quarter.

"That's a good sign for him. He's beginning to show so much more confidence," Rosberg said.

Carmel, who will be seeking revenge at Marist, is now 10-6 overall and 4-4 in the East Suburban Catholic Conference. The Corsairs, winners of eight of their last nine, are the third rated team in this week's Lakeland Newspapers Cager Report.

As for the Marist game, the Corsairs will be going up against the second place team in the ESCC. Marist, 6-2, was upset, though against Holy Cross.

"That's always a tough gym to play in," Rosberg said.

Carmel led early against St. Pats, leading 33-26 at halftime as Chris Mikrut canned four of five three-pointers. Mikrut finished with 15 points.

Derek Shaw was the scoring leader for the winners with 17 while Bierman had 11.

Defensively, Rosberg praised the work of Bruksch on Terry Cameron. Cameron scored 25 points but was not as intimidating as he could be.

"The rest of their players seemed to watch Cameron instead of playing a four-on-four game," Rosberg said.

John Sidari of Mundelein and Randy Bierman of Carmel spent their respective four-year high school careers playing less than five miles from one another.

And in one sense, the two standouts will be even closer when they report to Illinois football practice next spring. Both will be stepping into the world of Big Ten football.

The duo, along with Chris Holder of Stevenson, will give the area three representatives on Big Ten depth charts this fall. Holder signed a national letter of intent to attend Indiana.

Mundelein Coach Gary Heifner said Illinois' defense was one of the main reasons Sidari picked the Illini.

"Their defense matched his abilities very well. He likes the opportunity to play," Heifner said.

The coaching staff, led by John Mackovic and defensive coordinator Lou Tepper, made a favorable impression, Heifner said.

More than 35 major colleges expressed interest in Sidari, who is playing basketball this winter for the Mustangs.

"He was an outstanding athlete. I would equate him with David Wings," Heifner said.

THIS WEEK'S HOROSCOPE

BY SALOME

Weekly Tip: Ideas formed now can have a positive influence on your lifestyle.

Aries (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Disagreement can arise over recreational spending. Discipline may be needed to restrain young family members. Rule with a firm hand.

Taurus (Apr. 20 to May 20) Stay in the company of those young at heart. Your good humored attitude will be appreciated by those close to you, so let it shine.

Gemini (May 21 to June 21) This week may be one of the best times to start moderating your lifestyle. Shop for items that have the class and distinction you want.

Cancer (June 22 to Jul. 21) Changes in what had already been planned for the week may meet with opposition. Be patient with others. Look for an opening.

Leo (Jul. 22 to Aug. 21) Hanging around the house may not be a bed of roses. Get out and away by taking care of chores, shopping or by making a visit to an old friend.

Virgo (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Call that special someone for a date. Don't depend on the other one to make the first move. A happy-go-lucky attitude will work well.

Libra (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) An intellectually stimulating companion has you out for a rendezvous. Be sensible about your time and pleasure spending.

Scorpio (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Friends, neighbors and relatives could all be part of a happy trend. Put aside decisions and have some fun with those you trust.

Sagittarius (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) A domestic upset will not last long. Proceed as planned since the mood will lighten. Be aware of any unusual people in your circle.

Capricorn (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) If you look for flaws in others you are sure to find them. Beating that drum can only ruin a splendid relationship. Don't work too hard.

Aquarius (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) A romantic theme will fit your mood nicely. Plan for early social events, dining out, a scenic drive, etc. Keep a smile on your face.

Pisces (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) It's a perfect time for the family to hang out together. Creative enterprises run in your favor. Keep conversations light and entertaining.

If You Were Born Today
You have an alert mind, are eager to learn, and will be an achiever. Although somewhat conservative, you will enjoy what is new. Your striking personality, grace and charm will fit nicely with your aptitude for the arts and sciences.

FIRST FLOOR PLAN

A great room, occupying most of the main floor, gives an open, spacious feeling to the Stratton, by guest designer Ric Mixon, of Knoxville, Tennessee. The airiness of this huge room, which combines cooking, eating and living areas, is further amplified by vaulting its front half to the second floor ceiling. Two large multi-paned windows, capped by a half-round window, complete the cathedral effect, flooding the lofty room with natural light.

The front entryway opens directly into this area, creating a first impression of a house much larger than its actual 1788 square feet. Serving as a focal point for gatherings, the living room fireplace provides entertainment for those who take pleasure in watching fires. Forced air heating is the primary heat source.

At the far end of the room, the L-shaped kitchen doubles as an eating bar for informal breakfasts, lunches and snacks, and as a buffet for the more formal dining area. Indoor utilities and a half-bath are also located on the ground floor, handy to the kitchen, the stepped, two-car garage and an easy few steps from the stairs to the second floor.
